I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1761—With Alba's IQ, she naturally knew something had happened between David and Grandpa Val, but she could not understand it.

If not, why would Grandpa Val suddenly change his tone when speaking with David?

He used to call David by name, but now he was calling him Master David. Clearly, he was respecting David from the bottom of his heart.

It should have happened when David released his energy that was laced with murderous intention when he was talking about Archimedes.

'Is David not just a mid- or late Sovereign Ranker? Is he at a level that is shocking even to Grandpa Val?

'What could that be?

'Peak Sovereign Rank?

'Partial Saint Realm?

'No way!

'How old is David?

"How can he be a partial Saint?

'But if he's not, Grandpa Val wouldn't be so shocked.

"I should ask Grandpa Val after we leave."

Alba thought to herself.

She was indeed a beautiful woman with talent.

She could point out where the problem was after a little analysis, and she was often 80 to 90% correct.

However, Alba was too conservative.

Even if David was a partial Saint, it would be impossible for Valerio, the head of Treasure Trove with countless knowledge and experiences, to look so shocked.

There were young people in Star Kingdom who were already partial Saints, and there was more than one of them.

Moreover, they were only a few years older than David.

However, there was not one Saint in the entire history of Star Kingdom that was as young as David.

This was what shocked Valerio.

David had created history in Star Kingdom. At the same time, he challenged Valerio's knowledge about the word 'talent'.

He did not know what David went through to get to where he was today.

However, he knew that he could not be David's enemy.

"Master David, we still have something to take care of, so we'll not disturb your rest. You can contact Alba if you need anything. She'll help you make all the arrangements." Valerio put his hands together and got ready to leave.

He was in a hurry to go back to the family so he could tell the core seniors and grandmasters about David.

One could say that David's appearance had given a glimpse of hope to the Fellowes family who had already fallen into despair.

They had to seize this chance regardless of if they succeeded or not.

If not, they could only wait for their demise.

"Alright, goodbye, Mr. Valerio, Miss Fellowes. I won't keep you here then," David said.

He had gotten more benefits than he could imagine today.

He also needed some time to sort this out.

Not only was he a Saint now, he even got the acknowledgment of Valerio, the head of Treasure Trove.

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1762—From now on, the development of East League Trading Company would be smooth.

David could also be a True Saint soon.

“Bye, Master David!”

“Bye, Master David!”

Alba and Valerio got up and said at the same time.

“Let me send you off”

David got up after he said that as he walked the two to the door.

After he watched the two disappear from his view, he closed the door and went back to sit down, feeling the changes in his body.

After he upgraded from Eternal Realm to Saint Realm, his body would also change into the Saint's body

From now on, he would not be threatened by the Eternal Catastrophe and would be truly immortal.

Of course, this did not mean Saints would not die.

On the contrary, they just would not die unless exposed to external factors.

If their body and mind were attacked by a strong external force, they would still die.

For example, it would be easy for a Sacred Saint to kill a Pre-Saint.

Furthermore, a Sacred Saint was just the strongest being in a level 7 civilization, not the entire universe

There were still level 8 civilizations, level 9 civilizations, and God Tier Civilizations.

Even though David was at Saint Realm, he could only relax for the time being and not let down his guard completely

On the other side, after leaving David's place, Valerio said to Alba who was behind him, “Alba, I need to go back to the family for some urgent matters. I'll leave Master David to you. You will be in charge of him now and you don't have to care about anything else. You have to satisfy his every demand no matter what. I'll give you the highest authority in Treasure Trove so make sure you don't neglect him, understand?”

“I understand, Grandpa Val,” Alba replied obediently.

“Alba, you’ve done a meritorious deed for the family this time, so the family won’t forget you. However you haven’t completed your mission yet, so you have to stay next to Master David to help him complete his master’s mission. This is crucial, so you can’t mess this up”

“Grandpa Val, what happened just now? Why did your attitude change all of a sudden? Have you confirmed David’s master’s identity?” Alba voiced the doubts in her heart.

“No, but I confirmed another thing.”

“What is it?”

“Alba, what does the strongest younger generation in Star Kingdom look like to you?” Valerio did not answer. Instead, he asked another question.

“It’s Anders and the others, right? Those three are already at partial Saint Realm, right? I heard Anders is preparing to break through partial Saint Realm so that’s why he is now living in seclusion. I don’t know he’s succeeded. If he has, he’ll be on the same level as you,” Alba answered enviously.

Even if she did not like Anders, she had to admit that he was indeed one of the rare peerless geniuses in Star Kingdom.

He would be ranked even in the tens of thousands of years of history of Star Kingdom.

Alba knew she was miles apart from someone like that.

However, she was also much younger than Anders.

“Since Anders is the strongest younger generation among Star Kingdom to you, why are you still unwilling to marry him? You should know that there are a lot of women in Star Kingdom who want to marry him, and there are also a lot of geniuses among them too,” Valerio asked curiously

“Grandpa Val, I only met him once and I can’t see any emotions from his eyes, so he’s just a machine for cultivation. Interests are the most important thing for people like this. Even if I marry him, he will not spare the family for my sake. When that happens, we’ll be in a dilemma, so it’s better if we think of another solution while I still can I don’t want to see the family that gave birth to me and raised me get destroyed by my man,” Alba answered seriously.

“You’re right. Anders has his current achievements because of his character. It’s not just him, the others are no better than him. These people have something in common. They are all selfish and conceited, and they won’t change their minds for anyone,” Valerio nodded and agreed.

“Thus, I’ve been thinking of ways to escape Anders for the past few years. I want to cancel our marriage contract, but I have to help the family escape from the Pالمore family’s control before I can do that. I’ve never found a chance until now. I finally saw a glimpse of hope after I met Master David.”

“You did the right thing, Alba. David will be our family’s last chance so you must treat him well. Don’t let him form any dissatisfaction toward us,” Valerio said solemnly.
