I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1763—” know, but I’m still curious. Grandpa Val, what did you confirm that makes you believe that Master David will be the person to changes our family’s fate?”

Valerio did not answer her question. Instead, he asked, “Alba, what do you think of David compared to Anders and the others?”

Alba was stunned. She never expected Grandpa Val to ask her that.

It seemed inappropriate to compare Master David with Anders and the others.

After all, David appeared much younger.

If he was a mid- or late Sovereign Ranker, he would already be a genius among geniuses.

“Grandpa Val, Master David seems weaker than Anders and the others on the surface, but he’s actually much younger. When he’s their age, I am sure he won’t be inferior to them.”

“Are you so sure that Master David can surpass Anders?” Valerio stopped in his tracks and turned to look at Alba. He was asking her with a half-smile.

Alba felt uneasy after Valerio looked at her like that. However, she still answered affirmatively, “Yeah! I am confident in him. He’s only inferior in terms of age. If we give him a little more time, I’m sure he’ll surpass Anders and the others.”

Valerio continued to walk forward. As he continued, he shook his head and said, “Alba, you might be wrong this time.”

“Are you not confident in him? Then, why do you trust him so much?” Alba asked in confusion.

“It’s not that I’m not confident in him, but on the contrary. He’s not on the same level as Anders and the others.”

“Impossible! Master David is much younger than them, so how can you be sure he’s not on the same level as them? When David gets to Anders’ age, he will surely surpass him!” Alba retorted.

“Hehe, Alba. You might have misunderstood me. I didn’t mean that David is worse than Anders, I meant that Anders is inferior to David even if he and all the other geniuses were to combine,” Valerio said with a grin.

‘Anders and the other geniuses are inferior to Master David?’

Alva was confused.

‘What does that mean?’

‘Has David surpassed Anders?’

‘Impossible!’

“Oh, Grandpa Val! What’s going on? Stop teasing me, okay? I’m so anxious now,” Alba said, feeling flustered.

“Alright, alright, I’ll stop teasing you. However, you can’t tell anyone what I tell you today. Once other people find out, our family will have a lot more competitors.”

“I got it, Grandpa Val. Tell me!” Alba urged.

“Alba, you’re still too weak so you don’t know what the energy David released just now meant.”

“What does it mean? Has he surpassed Anders and reached partial Saint Realm?” Alba widened her beautiful eyes and asked in shock.

She had this thought in her head just now but did not dare to believe it.

“If Master David is a partial Saint, doesn’t it mean he’s much more talented than Anders and the others based on his age?”

“No... Master David just released the purest Saint Power and it’s much purer than a partial Saint’s. This means that he’s already a Saint and is not just a partial Saint,” Valerio lamented.

‘What?’

‘Master David is a Saint?’

'He's not a mid- or late Sovereign Ranker as I thought, nor is he a peak Sovereign Ranker or partial Saint,

but a real Saint!"

Alba was stunned.

She even forgot to walk as she froze on her spot.

Valerio also stopped walking. He knew Alba needed some time to come to terms with this.

He was also very shocked just now, let alone Alba.

Who would expect a young man to be a Saint?

Even the grandmasters might be beyond shocked after they found out!

A Saint was already the strongest person in Star Kingdom.

The forces with Saints were usually overlords in Star Kingdom.

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1764–The most important factor was how David's age.

Among the known Saints in Star Kingdom, the youngest seemed to be from the Simmons family and he was about tens of thousands of years old.

If word about this got out, the entire Star Kingdom would shake.

At this moment, Alba had forgotten how to think.

She was thinking about the past.

She had been with a Saint the whole time starting from their first encounter and then getting all the way here, but she had no idea.

No wonder David dared to attack and kill Cornelius, the second-in-line heir of the Lightfoot family, without hesitation.

Now, he was also unbothered after he offended Archimedes, the first-in-line heir.

Since he was a Saint, the Lightfoot family might not dare to do anything to him.

After all, the Saints Association stated that Saints could not start battles for no reason.

'If David is already a Saint, how strong will his master be?

'Is he a late Sacred Saint or peak Sacred Saint?

'Master David is already so powerful and has such a terrifying background. Why would he be scared of the Lightfoot family?'

'Right!'

Alba suddenly remembered.

She used to call David by his name when she had just met him.

Now, she felt scared just thinking about it.

This was disrespectful to a Saint

Thankfully, David was not petty.

If not, he would have to get another partner.

Since he was a Saint, it would be easy for him to find a partner.

Who could have imagined that David was on the same level as her grandmaster at such a young age?

"How is it? Have you come back to your senses? If you have, let's go I have to go back to the family and tell this to the grandmasters," Valerio asked when he noticed that he did not have much time left.

"G-Grandpa Val, you're not joking, right?" Alba asked in disbelief.

"Alba, this is so serious. Do you think I would joke around? David is a Saint and I can tell from the Saint Power he exuded that it can't be fake."

"So you're saying Master David is now comparable to the grandmasters? And he's surpassed Anders and the others?"

"I don't know if he's comparable to the grandmasters. After all, I'm not a Saint so I don't know the difference between them. However, Anders and the others are not even qualified to be compared with Master David. Although they are older, they are much weaker. Even though they are partial Saints, it would take them thousands of years to break through to Saint Realm. With Master David's talent, he might be in another unknown realm after that time."

"Is he that powerful?" Alba murmured.

"He's not only powerful, but he's also..."

Valerio could not find the word to describe David for the time being.

"Grandpa Val, I know what you mean. I don't think I can find another Saint so young in the history of Star Kingdom."

"Therefore, Alba, you have a very important task right now. Since Master David only allows you to help him, you have to do it well. This is directly related to whether we can rely on David's master to escape the Palmore family's control."

"I understand!"

The two continued to walk forward.

When they were inside the study, Valerio called over the other people in charge of Treasure Trove and asked them to work with Alba in the future. They should all attach the highest level of importance to Alba. Then, Valerio tore the space apart and went back to the Fellowes residence as fast as he could.

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1765—David did not stay long in the room.

After he got used to his new strength, he left the room and walked out of Treasure Trove.

Since Valerio said Archimedes and his protector were waiting for him outside with a lot of people, how would David let them down?

Since David did not want to start a conflict with the Lightfoot family but Archimedes insisted on pursuing this, Archimedes could not blame David.

He had already killed Cornelius and their feud would not end until one side died, so it would be fine if he killed Archimedes too.

Coincidentally, David wanted to try out a Saint's strength.

After he came out of Treasure Trove's headquarters, David chose a direction and jumped. Immediately, he turned into a flash of light and shot out.

This was a very lively area, so there were a lot of people. David did not plan to kill Archimedes and his people in one go, instead, he wanted to try out his new strength. Therefore, it would not be good if he accidentally hurt other innocent people.

Hence, he decided to lead the Lightfoot family members away to a secluded place to try out his strength.

If Archimedes dared to follow him with his people, then David would get rid of all of them at once.

Indeed, not long after David left, countless light flashes followed behind him.

The ones at the front were Archimedes and his protector, Bernard. At the same time, there was also the head of one of the Splendor branches.

That head was also a late Sovereign Ranker like Bernard.

Since Archimedes was the first-in-line heir of the Lightfoot family, all of the heads of branches in the Central Sacred Continent would have to respectfully call him Master Archi, except for the head of Splendor himself.

As for the people behind them, they were the powerhouses stationed at Splendor in the super-large trade zone at West End as well as the powerhouse the Lightfoot family sent this time to help Archimedes investigate Cornelius' death.

They were not weak at all.

Aside from the 2 late Sovereign Rankers, there were 7 to 8 mid-Sovereign Rankers and also more than 10 beginner Sovereign Rankers.

There were more than 20 Sovereign Rankers altogether.

At the same time, there were also more than 10 Immortal Rankers here.

Even though there were no peak Sovereign Rankers, the strength of these people could annihilate more than 80% of the medium and small forces in Star Kingdom.

All of the Lightfoot family's elites in West End had been deployed to take down David in one go.

Countless lights flashed across the sky like shooting stars. They attracted the attention of a lot of people, but no one dared to go and join in the drama.

These people did not look like they came in peace.

A lot of people got killed in Star Kingdom because they did not mind their business.

Eventually, people did not dare to be so wilful so anymore.

They would only go over to join in the drama if they were very confident in their strength.

David sped forward.

After an hour, he finally came to an area with towering mountains and precipitous ridges.

There was no one around them except for steep mountains and huge trees.

At the same time, he could even hear the roars of different wild beasts.

David figured this was a good place to be the Lightfoot family's graves. Thus, he stopped at the top of a tree on a mountain to wait for Archimedes and the others to arrive.

A gigantic python that was about ten meters long was resting under this tree.

David could also feel the beast under his feet.

Its scales were silvery-white and there were two bumps on its head.

This python looked as if it was turning into a dragon.

However, David did not pay much attention to it.

This python had not even turned into a dragon, but so what if it did?

David was a Saint, so even a real dragon would have to bow its head to him obediently.

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1766–The python opened its eyes which were as big as basins before it lifted its head to stare at David. It stuck out its tongue that was emitting a chill.

“Hiss...”

Since David was hiding his strength, the python did not know how strong the person in front of it was.

Time passed second by second.

Suddenly, the python attacked.

Humans were its favourite food.

Since this human dared to barge into its territory, he must be here to be its food.

The python approached David with its bloody mouth wide open. It wanted to swallow David and then continue its slumber.

However, when its mouth was about 5 meters away from David, the python felt as if it had run into an unshakable mountain.

Thud!

The huge shock caused the python to bounce back. Then, it went limp on the top of the mountain.

The python had a look of terror in its eyes.

It was enlightened and it knew it could not afford to provoke this human.

After it looked at David, it quickly turned to flee down the mountain after making sure it was safe. The places it slithered past were immediately thrust into chaos.

David never looked at the python this entire time, nor did he kill it.

All living things had souls and they all had a reason for being alive.

It was not easy for the python to grow to the stage where it would soon turn into a dragon. Plus, it did not hurt David, so David did not want to ruin the ecological balance here.

This was just a small interlude.

Not long after David started perching on top of the tree at the peak of the mountain, Archimedes arrived with more than 20 Sovereign Rankers and more than 10 Immortal Rankers.

When they saw David on the top of a mountain, they came not far behind David.

“David, this place is not bad. It has a nice view too, so it’s ideal to be your grave. Since this is the place you chose, you should be buried here. Don’t worry, I will find out the force behind you after you die and then uproot them. Soon, your family will be here to meet you,” Archimedes spat through gritted teeth as he looked at David’s back.

David had already become a knot in Archimedes’ heart since he first scared him into wetting his pants at the tavern and used money to trample on his dignity as the first-in-line heir at the auction.

Archimedes would not rest if he did not kill David.

Archimedes had already forgotten that he was in West End because his family sent him to investigate Cornelius’ death.

“What’s that trash’s death got to do with me?”

He wanted David to die, and he wanted David to die from torture. After that, he wanted to eliminate David’s bloodline so that he would feel better.

David turned around slowly after he heard Archimedes’ voice.

He went from facing them with his back to facing them head on.

“Archimedes, I didn’t think you’d follow me. To be honest, I am impressed with your courage. Don’t you know I purposely led you here?” David asked with a smile.

“Hahaha! David, do you think I don’t know that? But so what? There’s nothing I don’t dare to do in the Central Sacred Continent. This time, I want you to know how tragic the consequences will be after you offend me. Not only you, but everyone related to you will also die. Go repent for your sins in hell!” Archimedes guffawed and said.

He was not bothered by what David said at all.

So what if he did this on purpose?

Could he kill all of them?

Even if he wanted to, he needed to have the strength to do so.

The people Archimedes brought today could even fight a peak Sovereign Ranker, let alone a punk like David.

Archimedes found out David's strength from Bernard.

He was just a mid-Sovereign Ranker, so what could he do in front of so many powerhouses?
