

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1852

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1852-Of course, Anders knew Roald had a problem with him.

Not only him, but he was also afraid that Roald had a problem with the whole Palmore family.

However, he liked the feeling of being hated by the other party but them being unable to do anything to him.

It made Anders feel good.

Only absolute strength could achieve this.

Just like today.

The Fellowes family knew that the Palmore family wanted to take over Treasure Trove, but there was nothing they could do.

They could only watch the Palmore family approaching step by step, and then slowly retreat.

Once there was nowhere for them to go, the Fellowes family might struggle whilst at death's door or they might not even dare to struggle.

"No way! No matter where you go, the door of Treasure Trove will always be open to you," Roald said with a half-smile.

"Thank you, Roald, but I'm here this time to know something from you."

"What is it?"

"I heard that David, the wanted man of the Lightfoot family, is in Treasure Trove, is that right?" Anders asked.

"Where did you hear about this?" Roald frowned. Instead of answering Anders' question, he asked.

"Roald, the Palmore family is one of the six top forces of Star Kingdom. If we can't even find out this bit of information, how can we gain a foothold in the Star Kingdom? Don't you agree?" Anders said proudly.

Roald glanced at Anders and replied helplessly, "David is indeed in Treasure Trove. He is a VIP customer here, so as long as he doesn't leave voluntarily, we can't send him away. Not only that, we have to guarantee his safety too."

"Since David is here, I didn't come in vain. Roald, may meet him?"

"Why do you want to see him? I don't think you've interacted with or know him, right?"

"Indeed, I don't know him, but it won't dissade me from seeing him. There is such a capable person in Star Kingdom who can attract the attention of the entire Star Kingdom by himself and cause so many people to gather here. So, how can I, Anders, one of the Star Kingdom Six, not meet him in person?" Anders asked, expecting this as a matter of course.

"I can ask David for you since you want to meet him, but he most likely won't see you. So, you have to be mentally prepared," Roald replied.

When Anders heard this, his face immediately sank.

'Are you joking?

'What's my strength? Who am I?

'If I want to see a brat, Roald should just bring him here right away.

'Do I even need to ask consent from the other party?

'Is he looking down on me or my family?"

"Oh? Roald, what is the meaning of this? Do I, Anders Palmore, need to notify the other party if I want to see them? Plus, a Saint like you is doing the dirty work for me. Don't you think you're thinking too highly of David? What qualifications does he have?" Anders asked in a deep voice.

Right now, he was already on the brink of eruption.

Anders was already very upset that David stole the limelight from himself.

Coupled with Roald's words that demeaned himself and exalted David, Anders felt that he could hardly bear it anymore.

"Anders, you misunderstood. David is a VIP of Treasure Trove, not a member of the Fellowes family. So, I don't have the right to make him see you. As for whether he will see you, it depends on his mood. If he doesn't want to, then it can't be helped," Roald replied helplessly.

Anders felt hugely insulted.

He was really going to blow up.

Why had everything been going wrong since he came out and broke through partial Saint?

First, the event held in his own name was not as popular as David's warrant and the confrontation between the Lightfoot and Fellowes families.

Then among the Six, the remaining five joined forces to go against him, humiliating him badly at the party.

Now, Roald was stopping him from seeing David.

How dare the Fellowes family do this to him?

What Anders thought before coming here was that if David was in the Fellowes family, that meant he was in his hands and at his disposal.

What surprised him was that it was hard for him to meet David, let alone have him in the palm of his hand.

Before he went into seclusion, the Fellowes family absolutely dared not do this.

What happened during this period?

Why did it feel like the whole situation in Star Kingdom has changed?
