

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1856

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1856-“Anders! You’re intolerable! I will take you down today and ask your elders to come to get you. I’d like to see how your family educates the younger generation! How can they raise a loser like you!”

As Roald was saying this, his body moved quickly toward Anders.

Anders was caught off guard by Roald’s sudden attack.

He did not expect Roald to really act.

‘How bold!’

Anders was furious.

“Roald, you wouldn’t!”

Roald ignored Anders.

Since he had decided to act, he would not hesitate.

He was already in front of Anders and had grabbed him.

Once a Saint took action, it would be a crushing defeat.

A newly emerged partial Saint like Anders had no way to resist.

He was like a leaf in the ocean, shaking amidst the wind and waves.

Ander glared at Roald as he watched him approach. However, he was helpless.

When Roald was about to grab Anders, a huge force suddenly landed on him.

‘Huh?’

Roald felt his body backing away uncontrollably.

Boom!

Then, he slammed against the wall of the VIP room, creating a huge hole in the firm wall.

This collision caused Treasure Trove to shake violently like it was going through an earthquake.

One could see how strong this was. Normal people could not withstand this.

David was anxiously waiting for Alba's news in the room when he also felt the vibration of the building under his feet.

'What happened?

David's heart tightened.

'It feels like something is wrong.

'Did the Lightfoot family do this?

Now that his strength had not surpassed True Saint Rank, it would be troublesome if he fought.

There seemed to be only one step between partial True Saint and True Saint, but there was no comparison between them at all.

Ten partial True Saints would not be the opponent of one True Saint.

Furthermore, the two True Saints of the Lightfoot family were definitely not just beginners.

'What should I do? What should I do?

David thought anxiously.

He was curious to know what happened.

However, he did not dare to release his mind power to check, for fear of attracting the True Saint's attention.

Therefore, he could only suffer the anxiousness in his room.

'Right!'

David thought of someone.

'Amadi!

'Isn't he outside?

'So, he should know what's going on.

'I'll just ask him.'

He then immediately contacted Amadi.

However, the answer he got was that everything was normal outside, the Lightfoot and Fellowes families were still confronting each other, and there was no war.

David breathed a sigh of relief.

It would be fine if there was no fight. 1

Just one more day. 2

Once the lavish points were in hand, David would not be scared even if the True Saint of the Lightfoot family was here.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1857

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1857-Roald stepped out of the hole in the wall of the drawing room of Treasure Trove.

A Saint had a very strong bodily defense.

He was not hurt much, but he had a solemn look on his face.

If this person could avoid his perception and knock him into the air at a critical moment, it meant that they were terrifyingly strong.

One must know that even a peak Pre-Saint, or even a partial True Saint, could not completely avoid Roald's perception. However, this one could.

It showed that this person's strength had probably surpassed Pre-Saint Rank and reached True Saint Rank.

A True Saint, no matter where they were, was bound to cause a sensation.

The Palmore family even sent True Saint to protect Anders.

This proved it was a family with a strong background, indeed worthy of being one of the six top forces of Star Kingdom.

After Roald walked out of the hole, he fixed his eyes on the old man who suddenly appeared beside Anders.

'Tai!' Roald called out the old man's name.

“Roald! How dare you take action against the first-in-line heir of the Palmore family! Is the Fellowes family trying to rebel against us?” Tai Palmore snapped.

‘Tai, since you have been hiding in the dark this entire time, you should have heard what Anders said. If this is the first-in-line heir cultivated by your family and he represents the entire Palmore family, then the Fellowes family will not serve you anymore,’ said Roald sternly.

Anders called everyone in the Fellowes family a dog.

If Roald pretended not to hear that, how could he show his face in the family?

How could he show his face in front of the True Saint grandmasters of the Fellowes family?

“Roald, what do you mean? Does your family want to break away from my Palmore family? What? Now that your wings have hardened, you want to fly solo? Let me tell you, this is impossible!”

‘Your family regards my family as a dog. So do you still expect us to humble ourselves and continue to serve you as our masters?’

‘That’s just some nonsense Anders said. You can’t take that seriously!’

“Nonsense? I think this is what all of you really think!” Roald sneered.

“Roald, stop making a mountain out of a molehill by wrongfully accusing others. Anders is still young, and sometimes he can’t control his emotions and is bound to say some angry words. You are so old, so why are you splitting hairs with him?” Tai asked with a frown.

‘Tai, don’t you feel ashamed when you lie like that? I admit that the Fellowes family rode the coattails of your influence to achieve everything they have today, but everything in Treasure Trove was done by our ancestors step by step. Up to now, how much resources and wealth have we sent to your family over the years? Unexpectedly, you treat us as mere dogs, which is so disappointing. I will tell the family what you said without changing a word. I’ll let the True Saint grandmasters know what kind of family you are.’ Roald was full of anger.

‘You...’ Tai could not find the words to reply for a while.

What Anders just said was indeed a little too much.

Although in their hearts, the Fellowes family was a dog, it was not right to say it aloud.

The scene was quiet for a while.

No one continued to speak.

Roald kept an extremely angry expression on his face as he stared at Tai and Anders opposite.

He was pretty powerful to be able to shut a True Saint up.

Of course, this was because Tai did not want to make a fuss out of this.

Otherwise, when Roald took action against Anders, he could have crippled Roald rather than just knocked him out of the air.

Anders had a high status in the Palmore family. He was not only an heir, but he was also valued by the Sacred Saint grandmaster.

Therefore, he could not be harmed in any way.

However, the three True Saints of the Fellowes family were not weak either.

Even though two of them were seriously injured, they were still very powerful.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1858

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1858-They were still a very powerful force.

Therefore, Tai did not dare to kill Roald.

Anders, who was standing next to Tai, did not expect the family to send Grandmaster Tai, the True Saint, to secretly protect his safety.

It really flattered him.

Tai was a True Saint and he had a high status in Star Kingdom.

He was an existence second only to a Sacred Saint.

Anders did not speak as he looked at Grandmaster Tai and Roald.

The atmosphere was a little weird.

After thinking about it, he opened his mouth to break the silence.

He reprimanded loudly, "How presumptuous! Roald, you are so bold. You're just a mere Pre-Saint but you dare to speak like that to Grandmaster Tai. You are looking for death!"

"Shut up! Anders, this is a conversation between Saints. You have no right to intervene! It'll be your turn to speak when you're a Saint," Roald immediately countered.

"I have no right? What a joke, Roald, you've only lived a few years longer than me. In terms of talent, I am miles ahead of you. It won't be long before I step into Saint Realm. When I get to your age, I will crush you with a single finger."

"Since you know that I am older than you, is this how you treat your elders? Did the Palmore family, one of the six top forces in the Star Kingdom, teach you such manners? Aren't you afraid that people will laugh at you if word of this gets out?"

"Who would dare to laugh at me? I will kill whoever dares to laugh!" Anders said brazenly.

"Anders, you are too conceited. Star Kingdom is not dominated by your family, and you are still far behind in the younger generation. I can tell you clearly now that with your strength, you are not even qualified to kiss someone's feet," Roald sneered.

The person he was talking about was naturally David.

David was a Saint when he was less than a thousand years old, so Anders really did not deserve to kiss his feet.

However, Anders did not know that.

Upon hearing Roald's words, he burst into a maniacal laugh.

"Hahaha! Roald, are you nuts? Or do you have a few screws loose? Who doesn't know that the Star Kingdom Six is the most outstanding among the younger generation of Star Kingdom? No one can surpass us, and I, Anders, am the youngest partial Saint among the Six. Therefore, it is not an exaggeration to say that I am number one among the younger generation in Star Kingdom. Now you're telling me that I am not worthy of kissing someone's feet? Who would believe you? Your words not only disrespect me but also disrespect all the geniuses in the entire Star Kingdom."

Roald shook his head and lamented in his heart.

He thought so too before meeting David.

The Six were the face of the younger generation of Star Kingdom.

However, only after meeting David did Roald understand that there was always someone better.

Even if all members of the Star Kingdom Six were added together, they would not survive three rounds with David, let alone Anders by himself.

This was the difference between a partial Saint and a Saint.

There was only half a step between them, but the actual difference was very huge.

“Anders, it’s not bad to be ignorant, but it is when you’re so confident and opinionated despite your ignorance. Just wait! Soon, you will know who’s the real genius. I’m afraid you will feel nothing but despair when that happens,” Roald said calmly.

He was not in the mood to argue with Anders anymore.

There was no need.

Judging from how conceited Anders was, his confidence would crumble once he saw someone like David whom he had no chance of catching up to.

By then, he would suffer a huge blow from which he would be unable to recover from.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1859

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1859-Anders definitely would not believe what Roald said.

He thought that the other party was trying to mess with him by saying that.

He was not the only one who did not believe it, Tai did not believe it either.

Anders was someone that the grandmaster valued.

Judging from the Sacred Saint’s strength, the people he valued would not be too bad.

It was understandable that someone would be better than Anders.

However, it was a bit too exaggerated to say that he was not worthy of kissing a young man’s feet.

“Roald, don’t talk nonsense. What genius? What feeling of despair? If you have the balls, tell me who it is. I want to see who can make me experience despair.” Anders’ face was full of disbelief.

"I told you that you will know soon. It's useless to tell you now, since you can't see him anyway."

'You...'

Anders wanted to reply when he was interrupted by a voice.

'That's enough, Anders. Stop talking.'

Tai stopped the two from arguing.

Now was not the time for theories.

The most important thing right now was to stop what Anders just said about the Fellowes family being a dog from reaching the ears of the Fellowes family's True Saints.

Otherwise, the consequences might be serious.

If he viewed the entire Fellowes family as dogs, wouldn't he also be treating the Fellowes family's True Saints as dogs?

Tai was also a True Saint, so he knew that if the tables turned, he would definitely not be able to endure this.

How would a True Saint maintain their majesty if they did not make the person who said this pay the price?

Pre-Saints could not be humiliated, let alone True Saints.

"Roald, what exactly do you want?" Tai asked in a deep voice.

"What do I want? I also want to ask you what your family wants. Anders came here for no reason and called the Fellowes family a dog raised by your family. I just wanted to teach him a lesson, but I was beaten by you, a True Saint. Tell me, what does your family want?" Roald demanded loudly.

The Fellowes family's reasoning was bulletproof when it came to this matter. Hence, he was not afraid of Tai, the True Saint.

"I just said that Anders is still young. He's just a youngster! So, he is prone to impulsiveness when speaking and doing things. Understandably, he doesn't think about the consequences," Tai explained again.

"I can understand other issues, but I can't understand calling the Fellowes family a dog. I believe everyone in the Fellowes family wouldn't be able to understand that."

“What should we do so that you’ll give up on this matter?” Tai asked, frowning.

“Since Anders dares to say that, let him explain to the three True Saint grandmasters of the Fellowes family what he meant when he said we’re dogs raised by the Palmore family.”

“Roald, you have to think about this properly. The best way to handle this is to stop here. Once it blows up, you will be humiliated. If you let the three True Saint grandmasters of your family know about this, you will be the loser when the two families clash, so why bother?” Tai patiently persuaded.

He was also betting that Roald would not want to see the two families go to war.

‘There’s nothing wrong with going to war now. Sooner or later such a day will come anyway,” Roald said coldly.

Tai naturally understood the meaning of this sentence.

However, at the moment he could only pretend not to understand.

The Palmore family was not ready yet, and the proposal had not been approved yet, so it was not an ideal time to attack the Fellowes family.

If the Saints Association intervened at that time, it would be very troublesome.

“Alright, Roald, I’ll ask Anders to sincerely apologize to you. Then, this matter will be over. No one will be allowed to mention it again, and no one is allowed to spread it. What do you think?” Tai proposed a solution.

Roald was silent.

He was weighing the pros and cons of this matter in his mind.

If he told the family about this, the war between the two families was likely to come early.

The Palmore family was not ready, and they did not want to take action now.

On the other hand, the Fellowes family was not ready either.

Because of David, the Fellowes family already had two voices, and a crack was starting to slowly form.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1860

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1860-It would be very detrimental to go against the Palmore family at that moment, but Roald would not feel right just letting Anders go like this.

Thus, he replied, "Since you're going to apologize, you have to be sincere."

"What do you mean?" Tai asked.

When he said that, it was clear that Roald did not want both sides to suffer.

Tai breathed a sigh of relief.

If the two families started a battle now, it would destroy the Palmore family's plan.

Tai would have to bear a great responsibility if the grandmasters asked about this.

After all, he was secretly protecting Anders, but he did not manage to stop Anders from saying the words that insulted the True Saints.

"I want Anders to kneel and apologize to me. After that, I won't pursue the matter of him calling my family a dog anymore."

Right after Roald said that...

"Impossible!"

"You must be delusional!"

Tai and Anders spoke at the same time, directly rejecting him.

"Impossible? Then I can only let the True Saint grandmasters come forward," Roald said seriously.

"Roald, don't push it. I promised to apologize to you, which is showing enough respect for you. It is simply wishful thinking to want me to kneel." Anders looked angry.

In his life, he had only kneeled before the Palmore family's Sacred Saint grandmaster.

Asking him to kneel to a mere Pre-Saint was completely insulting to his character. Impossible.

Tai also added at this time, "Roald, Anders is the first-in-line heir of the Palmore family, the future head of the family, and also a person valued by the Sacred Saint grandmaster. At this moment, he not only personally represents him, but also the Palmore family, so asking him to kneel is absolutely impossible."

“Since Anders can represent your family, can I understand that your family also supports what he said when he insulted my family?” Roald sneered.

“Roald, don’t twist my words! It’s unrealistic to ask Anders to kneel. You will only get an ordinary apology. If you want to accept it, accept it. If you don’t, then we will wait for the three True Saints of your family to come to us.”

Tai was also angry that he did not bother to continue talking nonsense.

If Roald was determined to tell his family about this, it would be useless to say more.

If the Fellowes family dared to make the first move, then they would carry out the plan in advance and take down the opponent directly.

They would just end up losing more, but this was inevitable.

It was Anders’ fault that he could not control his mouth.

Roald did not say anything. Instead, he just watched Tai and Anders quietly.

The three of them looked at each other and the scene fell into silence again.

The atmosphere slowly became more and more solemn.

Roald’s next decision was likely to affect the future of the two families.

Suddenly there was a loud noise in the sky while the room was still basking in this solemn atmosphere, breaking the tranquility.

Boom!

The three raised their heads at the same time and looked toward the sky.

Although there was a roof, the three of them could still find out what was happening in the sky after they released their mind power.

Before they figured out what was going on, a person’s voice could be heard immediately after.

“Roald, hand me David, or don’t blame me for razing Treasure Trove to the ground!”

Roald’s eyes narrowed and he had a bad feeling in his heart.

‘Another True Saint!’