

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1866

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1866-David's deal with Treasure Trove was completed.

He did not care if Alba and Valerio were in the room. He could not wait to open his system.

He skipped the front and went straight to the last part.

[Lavish points: 2715348]

A look of surprise appeared in David's eyes.

As the transaction was completed and the lavish points were in his account, David could now upgrade his strength.

He was staring straight at the lavish points on his system panel while chuckling to himself.

Meanwhile, Alba was sitting opposite him.

Valerio and Alba could not see David's system.

What they could see was David staring at Alba while chucking.

He looked so happy too.

Alba's eyes met David's.

She noticed that David's smile was genuine, and his eyes were filled with sincerity.

This made her plump and youthful face under the veil turn red, her heart was also pounding rapidly against her chest.

She kept wondering why David was smiling at her.

'Does he like me?

'He has never even seen my face!

'What should I do if he confesses his feelings to me now?

'David is a Saint, and he has a Sacred Saint master, so my family won't say no, right?'

The more Alba thought about this, the redder her face became.

Valerio also noticed something was wrong with the two.

'What are they doing?

'Are they casting amorous glances at each other?

'How brazen!'

Valerio had a pretty good impression of David.

He was a Saint at a young age, but he was so low profile.

He was not as arrogant as the other Saints too.

Not like Anders from the Star Kingdom Six.

He was just a partial Saint, but he wanted to throw a party.

He was so desperate for the entire Star Kingdom to know of this.

The key was that David's identity was not simple.

He was a direct disciple of a Sacred Saint.

His identity was enough to intimidate a lot of people.

If Alba ended up with David, then David would have absolutely no reason not to help the Fellowes family.

By then, when David himself became the Sacred Saint, the Fellowes family would have a Sacred Saint as a son-in-law.

This would be an indestructible relationship.

At that time, who would dare to peek at the wealth of the Fellowes family and disrespect the Fellowes family?

When he thought about this, Valerio glanced at Alba calmly, and then quietly gave her a look. 1

He was telling her to hold on to this man.

He would be her chance to change her destiny and the fate of the Fellowes family.

Alba had been with Valerio for many years, so she naturally understood what he was trying to say.

She silently took off her veil to let David see her face clearly.

This was the first time that Alba took off her veil in front of outsiders after she got engaged to Anders.

Under the veil was a stunning face. It was fair and supple, like it could burst at any second. At the same time, she was blushing slightly, which made her look even more tempting.

Alba had absolute confidence in her appearance.

David was fascinated by the number of his lavish points.

When he recovered, he found that Valerio and Alba were still in the room.

Thus, he quickly put away the system panel.

Then, what he saw was Alba's appearance after taking off the veil.

'How gorgeous!'

That was David's first impression.

However, at the same time, he also had some doubts.

'Why is she taking off her veil for no reason?' 1

So, he asked, "Miss Fellowes, why did you take off your veil?" "Huh? Uh..." Alba fell into a daze.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1867

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1867-The peaceful atmosphere above Treasure Trove did not last long.

Among the crowd, someone from the Fellowes family shouted," Grandmaster, hand David over to the Lightfoot family! He only has a cooperative relationship with Treasure Trove. We don't want to fight to the death for the sake of a stranger."

If one person spoke, there would naturally be a second, a third... and even countless others.

"Yeah! Grandmaster Roald, hand over David. He's not from the Fellowes family. We don't need to offend the Lightfoot family because of him, right?"

‘Yes! I agree to surrender David.’

“I agree!”

Countless members of the Fellowes family spoke.

They all expressed that they wanted Grandmaster Roald to hand David over.

Roald glanced at the Fellowes family below but ignored them.

‘What a bunch of short-sighted guys.

‘Do I look like an idiot?

‘Will I turn against the Lightfoot family over a useless stranger?

‘If it weren’t for David’s strength and his Sacred Saint master, why would I be so desperate to protect him?’

“Roald, did you hear that? This is the will of the Fellowes family. Now that your family is asking you to hand over David. Are you going to continue to be stubborn and go against their wishes?” Koen asked.

“I told you, unless David comes out by himself, you can’t take him away.”

Even though everyone in the Fellowes family suggested handing over David, Roald still did not budge.

He knew with David’s perception as a Saint, he had definitely heard everything.

How could Roald miss this perfect opportunity to flatter David?

It was just the Lightfoot family.

He would not mind offending them.

Compared to a genius like David with a bright future and a deep background, the Fellowes family would naturally choose to side with David without hesitation.

Moreover, David was the Fellowes family’s hope of getting rid of the Palmore family.

“Roald, you are so stubborn! Have you ever considered that the Fellowes family will fall into the abyss because of you?”

‘This is my family’s matter, and it’s not something for you, an outsider, to worry about it!’

“Y-You are so stubborn!” Koen cursed angrily.

“Grandmaster! We, the Fellowes family, are not afraid of a fight, but we don’t want to fight for someone who has nothing to do with us.”

‘That’s right, Grandmaster! Even if we die, it will be worthwhile. We can’t just die for no reason. Just say yes to the Lightfoot family!’

“Grandmaster! Please think twice.”

The Fellowes family began to persuade Roald again.

They did not understand why the grandmaster was doing everything he could to help David.

He did not even hesitate to offend a big family like the Lightfoot family for him.

‘Is David more important than the entire Fellowes family?’

“Shut up!” Roald snapped loudly.

Those scoundrels kept asking over and over to hand David to the Lightfoot family.

If David heard this, he would definitely feel resentful.

If he mentioned this to his master when the time came, the fate of the Fellowes family might change again.

Roald’s words made the Fellowes family afraid to continue persuading them.

However, it was clear from their eyes that they were not happy.

They would not hesitate to die for the glory of the Fellowes family.

However, no one would be willing to die for an unrelated stranger.

“Remember, this is not my decision, but the entire family’s. As a Fellowes, I don’t need you to doubt me. The only thing you need to do is to carry out the family’s orders, do you understand?” Roald asked loudly.

Even though they were not happy, the Fellowes family members answered together, “Understand!”

Koen looked at Roald furiously.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1868

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1868-He did not know how he could convince such a stubborn man, so he could only hand him over to the grandmaster.

Deep in the Treasure Trove.

Valerio broke the awkward atmosphere inside the room where David was and said, "Master David, the transaction has been completed, but this was only approved by the Fellowes family, not TSA. The grandmaster of the Palmore family is the deputy head of TSA and he has a lot of power. If you really want to take over these properties of Treasure Trove, I'm afraid you have to ask your master to come out in person."

"Don't worry, Mr. Valerio! As long as you, the head, sign the deal, the transaction will be considered complete. It's not up to the Palmore family to intervene in our affairs," David replied immediately.

He had obtained the lavish points, so it proved that the system had acknowledged that the transaction was complete.

It did not matter whether the Palmore family acknowledged it or not.

Anyway, all David needed were the lavish points.

As for those traded industries, would the Palmore family dare to stop him from taking over once his strength rose?

'That's good!'

Valerio breathed a sigh of relief.

After such a long time of hard work, he finally helped David complete the task.

'I should be able to meet David's master soon.'

'I hope my efforts were not in vain.'

The Fellowes family would be able to take this opportunity to escape the Palmore family's control.

While Valerio was thinking to himself, David said, "Mr. Valerio, I still need your help."

"Master David, what is it? I will definitely try my best to help you regardless of if I can do it or not."

“Mr. Valerio, go out now and tell Roald that he must delay for a little longer. I will contact my master right away. There are some things that I must get his permission for before I can do them,” David said solemnly.

Even though he had the lavish points, the crisis was not over yet.

He had to use up the lavish points to improve his strength to be considered a success.

He could not be disturbed during this time.

“Okay! Don’t worry, Master David! I’ll go out and tell Grandmaster Roald that the Lightfoot family has to kill all of us if they want to catch you,” Valerio agreed without thinking.

In his opinion, how much time would it take to contact a person?

At most, it would only be a quarter of an hour.

The Fellowes family could buy this time.

However, they did not know that David’s breakthrough and improvement of strength would take far more than a quarter of an hour.

“Mr. Valerio, don’t worry. I, David Lidell, will always remember the kindness of the Fellowes family in my heart.”

“We can rest assured now that you’ve said that, Master David.”

“Before I take the initiative to come out, you must not disturb me.”

“I understand.”

Valerio left the room with the blushing Alba.

After the two left, David immediately sat cross-legged on the bed, unleashed his mind energy, and blocked the room to prevent anyone from disturbing him.

Then, he opened the system panel.

After clicking on the plus sign behind Body, a window popped up.

[This breakthrough will consume one million lavish points. After the breakthrough, the host’s Body will change from Pre-Saint level 10 to True Saint level 1. Please confirm whether to proceed.] 1

David chose yes without hesitation.

A burst of white light flashed, and the system panel disappeared.

After he closed his eyes, David carefully felt the changes in his body.

Pre-Saints and True Saints were both Saints.

David already had a Saint's body, so this breakthrough would not take too long.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1869

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1869-After Alba left the room, she put on the veil again.

She was still a little confused.

Just now, David was obviously staring at her blankly.

As a result, she brought him back to his senses after she took off the veil.

Was he disappointed with her looks?

Impossible!

Alba was very confident in her appearance.

Otherwise, Anders would not ask her to wear a veil after the engagement.

Now, the facts were right here.

David came back to his senses after she took off her veil.

Thus, Alba was starting to doubt herself.

Just like that, Alba followed Valerio and quickly went up to a pavilion with a heavy heart. Under the gaze of countless people, she flew into the air and went to Roald's side.

"Grandmaster!"

"Grandmaster!"

The two shouted at the same time.

"What are you two doing here? Hurry down." Roald said, frowning.

Cosmo would not dare to kill him for fear of triggering the Fellowes family's counterattack, but it did not mean he would not dare to kill the two juniors, Valerio and Alba.

"Grandmaster! Master David asked me to tell you that he needs your help to delay as long as possible. He is contacting his master and he will be able to solve the trouble soon."

Valerio melted the soundwaves into a thread that entered Roald's ear without spreading.

This was a unique method of sound transmission, but it would be best to use it in close proximity.

If it was too far away, someone might overhear it.

Roald was shocked when he heard that.

An astonishing gleam burst out of his eyes.

'David is contacting his master? The Sacred Saint hiding in the dark?'

'This means as long as I hold on for a little longer, the family will be saved.'

At this second, Roald was filled with energy.

"Are you sure?"

Roald transmitted the sound in the same way.

'Yes!' Valerio answered.

"Alright, I got it. You should go down now. I can take care of this myself."

"Grandmaster, this is the most critical time for our family, let us stay here with you."

Valerio and Alba's arrival immediately attracted the attention of countless onlookers below.

Everyone started talking.

The people here were from all over the Star Kingdom.

Some knew Alba, and some did not.

“Hey! Isn’t that Valerio, the head of Treasure Trove? Who is that veiled woman? Judging from her figure, she seems like another peerless beauty.”

“Brother, don’t you know who she is? Which hole did you crawl out of?”

“Is she famous?”

“Of course! That’s the third young mistress of the Fellowes family, Alba, a famous and talented woman on the Central Sacred Continent. Not only is she talented, but she’s also beautiful.”

“Then why is she wearing a veil?”

“You don’t know? My nickname is Know-It-All. Allow me to tell you about this. Did you see that young man in the Palmore family’s team?”

“Yes!”

“He is one of the Star Kingdom Six, Anders Palmore, the first-in-line heir of the Palmore family. Not long ago, broke through partial Saint Realm at a young age, and he’s basking in the limelight.” 1

“I know this! Who doesn’t know about Master Anders? Get to the point.”

“Master Anders is engaged to Alba, the third young mistress of the Fellowes family. Miss Fellowes never wore a veil before, but ever since the two got engaged, Miss Fellowes put on a veil. It is said that Master Anders requested it. He said he is the only one who can look at his woman.”

“I see! This is in line with his character. So domineering!”

“Yes, but we lost our benefits. Since then, Miss Fellowes always wears a veil wherever she goes.”

Many such discussions popped up.

After Alba came to Roald’s side, she did not look at the members of the Lightfoot family but looked at the members of the Palmore family on the other side.

Her eyes fell on Anders, her fiance in name.

Sure enough, he was here.

Thankfully, she had helped David with his mission.

As soon as David's Sacred Saint master got here, the Fellowes family would see a glimmer of hope and they would not care about the fallout with the Palmore family. They could even choose to put up a fight.

By then, their engagement would also be called off.

Anders spotted Alba too.

Finally, he remembered that he was engaged to Alba.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1870

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1870-For people like Anders, a woman was just a tool.

Strength and status were what he pursued.

Now that he had both, would he lack women?

Even so, when he heard many people below praising Alba, it filled him with a great sense of satisfaction.

He had indeed asked Alba to wear a veil.

Since she was Anders' fiancée, she must be conscious and only let him appreciate her.

At this time, Alba suddenly made a decision that shocked everyone.

She raised her right hand and placed it next to her left ear.

Then, she took her veil off, revealing the peerless face under the veil.

A slight smile from her could touch the hearts of countless men.

Alba's move stunned everyone present.

The scene fell into a brief silence.

All the men below were like animals as they stared blankly at the beautiful figure in the sky. 1

Immediately afterward, countless exclamations and praises erupted from the crowd, i

"Damn, what a peerless beauty! She's so beautiful!"

“It’s been so long since I saw her face and I didn’t expect her to look even more stunning than before!”

“How devastatingly beautiful!”

“Sure enough, I didn’t come in vain this time. It’s worth it to see the true face of Miss Fellowes!”

After the admiration, someone also started to question her.

“Didn’t you just say Miss Fellowes’ fiance, Master Anders, wanted her to wear a veil so that other men won’t look at her? Why is she removing her veil now? She’s even doing it in front of Master Anders and so many men!”

“H-How would I know?”

“Aren’t you a Know-It-All?”

“Yes, but there are still things I don’t know about.”

“Tch, what an undeserved reputation!”

Anders felt his face turning hot.

He never expected Alba to remove her veil in front of so many people.

Wasn’t she purposely humiliating him?

Just now, he was feeling good since everyone was praising his fiance.

Now, he was immediately slapped in the face.

Anders stared at Alba with an unpleasant expression on his face.

He wanted to go over there and slap that shrew.

Alba looked at him without fear.

In truth, she did this not only to disgust Anders.

She also wanted to make sure that she still had her charm.

What David did just now caused Alba to be filled with some self-doubt, so she could not wait to test if she was no longer attractive.

She had coincidentally pissed Anders off while she was at it.

Another reason she did that was to help David buy a little time.

If this were the past, Alba would not dare to do that.

Now that David was already contacting his master, she did not have any scruples.

It turned out that she was still very attractive.

Every man who saw her for the first time would lose his mind for a moment.

However, Alba did not understand why David was not affected.

'Does he prefer me to wear a veil?

'What a strange preference.'

It only took a very short time for Valerio and Alba to come into the air before Alba took off her veil to cause a sensation.

Cosmo had given Roald enough time, but it seemed that the Fellowes family was determined to protect David.

In that case, they should not blame him for being merciless. 5

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-