

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1875

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1875-Roald stared straight at Cosmo.

He gritted his teeth and clenched his fists together.

A fierce battle was going on in his heart.

He could not watch Valerio and Alba die in front of him.

However, he was worried that David and his master would not be happy if he told Cosmo about David's situation. If that happened, everything the Fellowes family did would be in vain.

'What should I go?

'How should I approach this?'

Roald was silent.

Cosmo was impatient.

He saw Roald's inner struggle at this moment and said with a smile, "Roald, you should think clearly. The fate of these two people is in your hands. If you make the wrong choice, there is no turning back."

"Cosmo, do you really want to know David's identity?" Roald asked after taking a deep breath.

"What do you think?"

"I can tell you, but you can't hurt anyone in the Fellowes family."

After a fierce struggle, Roald decided to come clean anyway.

Judging from his contact with David, the other party was not the kind of eccentric and moody person.

In addition, Alba and David had an unusual relationship, and they were the only source of connection between the Fellowes family and David.

If Alba died by Cosmo's hands, it might not be any better for the Fellowes family.

Their relationship with David might just crumble.

This was absolutely not acceptable.

With David's talent, he would surely be a Sacred Saint in the future.

Star Kingdom never had a sect with two Sacred Saints at the same time.

Therefore, the Fellowes family could not ruin their relationship with David.

"Sure!" Cosmo answered.

"I also have a condition. I will only tell you. No one else aside from you should know about this." Clearly, Roald was talking about Tai and Anders.

If the Palmore family knew David had a Sacred Saint master and how the Fellowes family was doing everything they could to help David, their plan of relying on David's Sacred Saint master to escape the Palmore family's control would be exposed.

Now that everything was still uncertain, they could not let the Palmore family know of this.

If not, they would immediately attack the Fellowes family.

Even though the plan might get exposed if he told Cosmo, he could at least still buy some time.

David's master might already be here by the time that happened.

"Alright," Cosmo agreed after looking at Tai.

He wanted to get the news out of Roald first.

After that, he would tell whoever he wanted since he had the right to do so.

"Okay! Let them go and I'll tell you."

"You haven't said anything, so why should I let them go? What if you go back on your word after I let them go?"

"Cosmo, you are a True Saint. Are you seriously afraid that I'll go back on my word? Do you think we can escape you?"

Cosmo thought about it and figured that Roald was right.

It was impossible for the Fellowes family to escape from him.

If he could catch them once, he could catch them a second time.

Therefore, he released his grip.

Once Valerio and Alba were safe, they quickly moved away from Cosmo and went to Roald.

“Grandmaster!”

‘Grandmaster!’

The two cried out of breath.

They had just experienced a life-and-death crisis.

Roald nodded in response.

Valerio was a little better. After all, he had experienced a lot of things at his age, and he quickly recovered his calm.

On the contrary, Alba still looked shocked.

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1876-Her stunning face was pale.

She had almost stepped through the doors of hell.

If Grandmaster Roald did not agree to the True Saint’s request after he caught them, Valerio and Alba would be dead now.

This was also the first time Alba had been so close to death.

“Can you tell me now?” Cosmo looked at Roald and asked.

Roald looked at Tai and Anders at one side.

Cosmo understood and was about to separate the two sides.

Tai spoke up.

He endured the anger in his heart and said with a sneer, “Roald, you’re getting bolder and bolder. How dare you exclude me? You’re worried that Cosmo will use your family to threaten you but are you not worried that I’ll do the same? You better don’t have any double standards. If I get mad, I'll be even more savage than Cosmo. None of the Fellowes family members will escape by then."

Anyone could tell that Tai was furious when he said that.

Cosmo and him were both True Saints.

Moreover, the Palmore family was the Fellowes family's backer.

How dare Roald exclude him?

Wasn't he slapping Tai across the face?

When Cosmo saw this, he gave up on blocking the two out.

Tai was clearly fuming, so he did not dare to trigger him anymore.

The Palmore family was one of the six top forces of Star Kingdom.

Therefore, it would be best to not offend them if necessary.

Roald was in a dilemma right now. He had an unpleasant look on his face.

He was a Pre-Saint, and he was stuck between two True Saints, so it was pretty challenging for him at this point.

Right now, he genuinely did not know what to do.

If he announced that David had a Sacred Saint master hidden in the dark in front of Tai, Tai would definitely contact the Palmore family immediately and start making moves on the Fellowes family.

There was no way they would allow the Fellowes family to escape their control.

The Fellowes family could not escape Tai's grasp as well.

Everyone could tell that Tai would not let this go judging from his behavior.

Things seemed to have reached a dead end.

There was no way to get out of this at all unless the protagonist David appeared.

When he thought of David, Roald was puzzled.

It stood to reason that a lot of time had passed since Valerio and the others appeared.

Had David not contacted his master yet?

Why was he still not out after such a long time?

Did something happen?

As Roald was trying to think of a countermeasure, Tai and Cosmo could no longer wait anymore.

“Roald, stop dilly-dallying and just say it quickly to satisfy everyone’s curiosity. I also want to see what this kid is capable of and why your family protects him so desperately. If you don’t want to tell us, you can hand him over and we will ask ourselves. The Lightfoot family has scruples, but the Palmore family doesn’t,” Tai urged.

“Roald, I have already let them go. So, you have no choice but to explain David’s situation clearly today. I won’t be merciful the next time I make a move. You should think clearly,” Cosmo also said after that.

Facing the threats from two True Saints, Roald simply had no other choice.

He could not help sighing.

He was still not strong enough.

If he was also a True Saint, he would not be in this situation.

Unfortunately, True Saint Rank was not so easy to achieve.

Pre-Saints accounted for more than 90% of the Saints in Star Kingdom.

There were very few who could reach True Saint Rank, let alone Sacred Saint Rank.

Only six were known.

Even if some were hidden in the dark, there would not be many.

The Fellowes family did not have Sacred Saints, and they possessed a huge amount of wealth, so that was why they were in this situation.

“Since you all want to know, then...”

Before Roald could finish, another voice interrupted him. ‘Then let me tell you!’
