I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1918-The real David also appeared before his eyes.

The result shocked him again.

Originally, he thought that David's Eternal Golden Body would be shattered under his Tri-Element Slash, then David would also be seriously injured.

Unexpectedly, David's Eternal Golden Body was still standing in place.

Although it looked a little battered, it did not suffer any substantial damage.

It was not even as injured as Sahar after getting hit by the hammer.

'How on earth did David block the Tri-Element Slash?

'Who is this person who looks exactly like David?'

Sahar had too many doubts.

"David, you are so sneaky! It's so shameless of you to arrange for someone to hide and attack me in the dark. You have completely embarrassed all True Saints." Sahar taunted loudly, enduring the numbness of his body.

"You'll get called a king if successful and called a bandit if defeated. This is the truth, so who cares if it's shameful?" David snapped back without batting an eyelid.

He did not care about these things.

Not to mention that his clone was originally one of his techniques.

Even if he could get a True Saint to help him, it would mean he was capable.

Who stipulated that all fights should be one versus one?

Wouldn't it be equally shameful for a strong person to bully a weak person?

David believed that if the Simmons family had another True Saint, they would definitely attack him together.

This was the truth.

"Okay! Very good! I, Sahar Simmons, am admitting defeat! You can go now. The Simmons Continent doesn't welcome you," Sahar said aggrievedly.

Sahar did not want to fight two powerful True Saints.

Otherwise, his injuries would only worsen.

“What? Stop fighting? I haven’t had enough fun yet!” David said as he raised his right hand, pointing the Evil-Splitting Sword at Sahar.

“David, don’t go too far! You have killed a Saint from my family and you have avenged yourself. What else do you want?” “I don’t want anything else. You can’t just start a fight and then stop it just because you want to. Do you think I love to be embarrassed?”

“David, don’t think that you can do whatever you want just because you have a helper. I just don’t want to fight with you and make both sides suffer.” “Let’s continue then! Do you think it’s useful to talk so much nonsense? Fine, I’ll let you go this time and then I’ll come back to teach you a lesson when I have a chance.”

David suddenly changed his manner of speaking. After speaking, he directly tore apart the space without giving Sahar a chance to react. Then, he got in with his clone and disappeared.

Sahar was left with a confused expression.

He did not understand why David firmly said that he would fight but then run away suddenly.

The reason David left in such a hurry was that his mind power detected a powerful energy approaching him.

The owner of this energy was definitely stronger than him and Sahar.

If he could not determine whether they were an enemy or a friend, he should just leave first.

Bahar’s mind power was much weaker than David’s, so he could not detect it.

After entering the seven-dimensional space, David dismissed his clone, put the God of Thunder Hammer into the Space Stone, and left as quickly as possible.

He would still seek revenge.

He still could not relax.

True Saint Rank was amazing, but it was still not enough.

If he could not save Celeste, he could not help the Fellowes family fight the Palmore family.

He needed to be a Sacred Saint if he wanted to accomplish both of these things.

That would be Star Kingdom's strongest combat power.

Next, David would make a final deal with the Fellowes family.

As long as he was successful, achieving Sacred Saint Rank would be just around the corner.

After what happened in West End of the Central Sacred Continent, the Palmore family and the Fellowes family had a complete fallout.

Furthermore, the Palmore family must have guessed that the Fellowes family's real intention was to help a young Saint like David at all costs.

Judging from the situation the Fellowes family was in now, there was only one way to save themselves.

That was to cooperate with David.
