

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1975

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1975-“Nova, thank you for telling me this!” David thanked Nova from the bottom of his heart.

He was a partial Pre-Deity, so what Nova said had little effect on him.

At most, it just piqued his curiosity and made him want to find out what was going on.

However, Nova did not know David’s strengths.

She still thought that David was just a True Saint.

Even with external means, He was still somewhat dwarfed in power when facing the four ancient True Saint reputable elders of the Iridescent Sect.

Besides, the Iridescent Sect hid many secrets.

This could also take David by surprise.

Hence, she would tell David everything and provide David comprehensive knowledge, so as not to be caught off guard when the time came.

“David, I’m actually selfish. My family has been living in the Iridescent Sect since the generation of my grandmaster. We have feelings for this sect. It’s just a secret in the forbidden area that cast a layer of shadow on the sect. I want the sect to return to normal so that the strong ones who break through Saint Realm will not disappear, but I have no ability, so I hope to get your help to find out the secrets in the forbidden area.” Nova did not hide and directly expressed the thoughts in her heart.

David was very satisfied with this.

He did not like people who refused to say what was in their heads, especially those who were narrow-minded and cunning.

‘If you have anything to say, just say it directly. In the end, if I decide to help you, it’ll mean we have mutual affection, but if I don’t, I’m also entitled to do so.

’Just like Nova.’

“Nova, after I rescue Celeste and then settle Celia and the others, I will help you explore the secrets of the Iridescent Sect forbidden area,” David agreed.

“Thank you!” Nova said gratefully.

“It’s nothing! Then shall we go to the ice cavern now?”

“Wait! Let me tell you some basic information about the four reputable elders in the Iridescent Sect. If you want to save Elder Red, you will definitely run into them. Knowing a little more about them will also help you.”

“No... Well... Fine! Thank you, Nova.” David wanted to say no, but after thinking about it, he did not say it.

Nova took such a big risk with good intentions. Although it was useless, she had kind intentions.

It would be impolite to refuse.

Then Nova began to explain carefully to David.

In fact, she did not know much about the four reputable elders either.

However, as the head of the sect, she had more contact with the four reputable elders compared to other people.

The four reputable elders had lived for a very long time, but no one knew exactly how many years.

Anyway, the Iridescent Sect was founded by the four of them.

According to the ranking, the four of them were Marin, Ursa, Eira, and Giada.

Celeste’s teacher was the reputable elder from the Cecil Family, who was ranked third.

After more than ten minutes, David followed Nova out of the chamber and went to the ice cavern of the Iridescent Sect.

Along the way, Nova was careful, for fear of being discovered by reputable elders.

She had no idea that if David was unwilling, even Sacred Saints could not find him, let alone a True Saint.

There was no accident on the way and the two arrived at the entrance of the ice cavern.

From far away, David could feel a chill emanating from it.

As expected of the ice cavern, this chill alone was not something ordinary people could bear.

Ordinary people might be frozen into ice sculptures as soon as they approach.

“David, Elder Red is on the last floor below the ice cavern. I won’t accompany you down there. If there is any movement here, the reputable elders will definitely find out,” Nova said, looking at the entrance of the ice cavern ahead.

“Thank you, Nova! I can go down alone, so you should leave as soon as possible. It will be bad if you are discovered.”

“Then, you should be careful. Although I am the head of the Iridescent Sect, there is nothing I can do apart from giving you some information and guiding you.”

“That’s enough.”

“David, if there are any unforeseen accidents, try to ensure your own safety first. You have a very unique talent. Even in the entire history of Star Kingdom, there is no one comparable to you. As long as you are given a little more time, I believe you can do better. Elder Red will be fine even after a few more years, so don’t make any mistakes because of something trivial. If you encounter any accidents, Celia and the others will not be able to accept it.” Before leaving, Nova persuaded again.
