

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1983

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1983-A chill instantly swept across the world, making all the disciples of the Iridescent Sect shudder.

Then, the chill continued to spread.

This blue object was a huge ice cube that David used his mind power to move out from the depths of the ground.

Inside of the ice cube was the treasure that created thousands of miles of ice, with the extremely cold air also being emitted from there.

Other than that, two people were standing on the huge blue ice block. It was David and Celeste.

However, at this time, David was wearing a silver mask.

The clothes he was wearing were also different from his clone.

After David thought about it, he figured it would be best not to expose his cloning skill.

Although he was unafraid of anyone in Star Kingdom, he needed a Sacred Saint master, right?

What would become of his master if he exposed his skill?

This sudden surprise interrupted the actions of the four reputable elders of the Iridescent Sect.

They all stopped and looked at the huge blue ice block in the air and the two people on it.

The four of them knew very well what was hidden in the blue ice cube.

It was the Ice Soul Excalibur, one of the treasures of the Iridescent Sect!

It was also something that must not be stolen by outsiders because it was not just a treasure, but it was also...

Of the two people on the ice, one of them was wearing a mask, so they could not see his face clearly and did not know who it was.

As for the other woman, anyone who was a disciple of the Iridescent Sect knew her.

Celeste, the direct disciple of Reputable Elder Eira and one of the important people of the Iridescent Sect.

However, she had fallen out of favor since returning from her universe enforcer mission the last time around.

Then, she was sentenced to the ice cavern by the reputable elder for a hundred years.

Basically, this was tantamount to the reputable elder giving her up completely.

Unexpectedly, someone rescued her.

The cores of the Iridescent Sect looked at everything in front of them, confused about what was going on.

Celeste faced her master, the other three reputable elders, and the other disciples of the Iridescent Sect with a calm expression. There was not even a trace of panic on her face. She looked as if she had let this matter go.

The moment she entered the ice cavern, she told herself that she would live for herself in the future.

After David rescued her, she was no longer an elder of the Iridescent Sect, nor a disciple of Eira.

She was Celeste, who had regained her freedom and was now living for herself.

Eira looked at the woman on the ice. She was fuming on the inside.

She thought that Celeste, the disciple she had placed high hopes on, was the mastermind of this incident.

'This girl must have been unwilling to accept being sent into the ice cavern, so she colluded with outsiders and intends to steal the Ice Soul Excalibur from the ice cavern and escape while she's at it.'

However, what Eira could not figure out was how this girl knew that there was a treasure in the ice cavern.

It was impossible for the news of the Ice Soul Excalibur to be leaked.

Except for her and her sisters, not even the previous and current heads of the Iridescent Sect knew about it.

Moreover, how did her apprentice meet these two powerhouses?

Eira realized that she did not know Celeste at all, let alone the young man with the sword.

Recommended Novels