

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 2009

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2009-The comical dialogue between the master and the apprentice challenged the worldview of everyone present.

The disciple not only called his Sacred Saint master an old man, but he would only call him Master if asked, and in the end, the Sacred Saint was even looked down on.

'This master is too disrespected, right?

'He's still a Sacred Saint!

'He is already the top existence in Star Kingdom.

'Is he that lowly in the eyes of his apprentice?

'If I were his master, I'd have slapped him long ago.

'Why would I want such a rebellious disciple?

'No matter how good the relationship between master and disciple is, it can't be so good, right?

'Even the most basic respect is gone.

'Instead, the master is at the mercy of the apprentice.

'None of the Sacred Saint masters are like this.

'Not to mention Star Kingdom.

'Even if we take account of the entire universe, he's probably the only person who behaves like this.'

The Palmore family and the Fellowes family were all looking at the master and disciple.

They were bewildered.

'How unbelievable!

'This is unheard of!

'How incredible!

'His master fell for such clear provocation.

'Is he so old that he's senile?'

Alba stood next to David.

Whenever David said something, she would feel her heart jumping to her throat.

She almost tried to persuade the other party several times.

How could a disciple talk to his master like this?

Furthermore, his master was also a Sacred Saint.

If others had a master who was at the top of Star Kingdom, they would have constantly served their master respectfully.

They would not be like David, who showed no care nor respect at all.

Alba could not understand what David was doing, or rather, she could not understand the relationship between the master and the disciple.

Zenon stood opposite David's clone, expressionless.

He did not have what these people were thinking. Instead, there was something more important for him to wonder about.

The opponent actually knew that he was a peak Sacred Saint.

This seemingly very casual sentence revealed a lot of information.

How did he know that?

No one knew this secret other than the remaining five Sacred Saints known to Star Kingdom.

He knew Zenon was a peak Sacred Saint, yet he still dared to block him.

This proved that David's master was not afraid of a peak Sacred Saint.

Did it mean that his opponent was also a peak Sacred Saint?

Where did this old man come from?

He had actually found traces of some of the Sacred Saints hidden in the dark of Star Kingdom.

Zenon thought for a moment but did not remember this person.

The other party was likely to be an old monster who had lived for a long time.

After the comical dialogue between the master and the disciple, the Fellowes family was excited.

This was because they knew that the Sacred Saint would not abandon the Fellowes family and leave.

“My disciple told me to show him a fight. If you don’t leave, I’m going to make a move,” David’s clone looked at Zenon in the distance and said.

“Alright! Let me see what you are capable of. How dare you be so arrogant in front of me!” Zenon was not afraid at all.

So what if the opponent was an old monster who had already stepped into peak Sacred Saint Rank?

As long as Zenon could defeat him, the Palmore family and the Saint Association law enforcement team could take care of the Fellowes family too.

There were countless pairs of eyes looking on from outside.

In any case, Zenon would not back down.

If he could take down the Fellowes family in today’s battle, the status of the Palmore family would be unshakable in the future.

The golden age of Star Kingdom was coming.

All the demons and monsters hiding in the dark had come out.

So, he had to show how powerful he was to shock the weaklings.

“If that’s the case, let’s fight!”

After David’s clone finished speaking, his hunched figure slowly stood up straight. He lifted his right hand and pointed the Ice Soul Excalibur directly at Zenon.

Recommended Novels