

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 2049

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2049-Lorraine was really smart.

No wonder even an old woman like Marin, who had lived for millions of years, praised her.

Not everyone could make an accurate analysis just relying on a few words from Marin as well as what little clues they knew.

David did damage Celeste's alluring body.

However, it did not happen voluntarily, and she was forced into it.

However, these details were not important anymore.

It was an indisputable fact that the damaged alluring body almost caused the sister's task to fail.

Fortunately, they found another alluring body.

If not, Celeste's fate would be much worse than being sent to the ice cavern.

After Lorraine figured out the crux of it, she became even angrier.

Her resentment toward David also grew heavier.

He could accept any woman but not her.

Such a fact made the proud Lorraine unable to contain her anger.

No matter what, she had to ask David about this in person.

Otherwise, Lorraine would not be able to rest in peace even if she died.

It was this kind of resentment that allowed her to persist in the forbidden technique for such a long time, i

If it were not for the figure of David laughing at her appearing in her mind the moment she passed out, Lorraine would never have been able to endure it.

After thinking about all this in a very short time, Lorraine continued, "Masters, I want to know why you want the alluring body. If possible, I'd like to give it to you. At the end of the day, you're still my teachers and you sacrificed a lot for me. Even though there's an ulterior motive, I'll still be grateful."

Eira and her sisters looked at each other.

They did not expect Lorraine to say that.

If possible, they also wanted to keep Lorraine around as their master would be very fond of Lorraine after he woke up.

Unfortunately, they would not have the chance to appear at the same time.

Lorraine could not give them what they wanted, nor would she willingly give it to them.

“Lori, you’ve proven to us that we weren’t wrong about you. Unfortunately, you can’t give us what we want,” Marin said, shaking her head.

“What exactly do you want?” Lorraine asked again.

“We want everything about you, including your life!”

After Marin finished her sentence, the four sisters acted at the same time.

In just an instant, they surrounded Lorraine, cutting off her escape route.

Although they were very weak, they had combat experience.

Especially the eldest sister Marin and the second sister Ursa. The two were once peak True Saints who were only one step away from being Sacred Saints.

Such powerhouses would also be peak Pre-Saints even if they dropped one level.

They would still be the strongest among Pre-Saints.

Of course, it was undeniable that all four were extremely weak now and they could not exert much strength.

Even so, in their opinion, they had no problem joining forces to deal with Lorraine, a beginner Saint who had not yet fully mastered her power.

At first, they were afraid of any accidents.

Hence, they wanted to wait until they recovered before making a move to guarantee a 100% success rate.

Now that they had been exposed, they had no choice but to take action.

They could only sacrifice Lorraine first to wake up their master and then think about recuperating later.

When Lorraine heard Marin's answer and saw the actions of the other three, she sighed silently in her heart.

Sure enough, the situation was as she thought.

They wanted her life.

However, what would they do with her after? Lorraine had no clue.

Perhaps she was still too inexperienced.

"Masters, do we really need to fight each other like this?"

Seriously, I respect you very much, and I don't want to fight with you. Isn't there a peaceful solution?" Lorraine asked in a pleading tone.

"Lori, let's be masters and disciples in the next life! I promise you that I will teach you well when the time comes. As for this life, please let us accomplish our goal, okay?"

Recommended Novels