

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 2061

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2061-Above the forbidden area of the Iridescent Sect.

Lorraine was on the brink of death.

More than 90% of her body had been sucked dry.

At the last-minute moment, a space crack suddenly appeared.

Then, a figure walked out from inside before a red light flashed.

Ding ding ding!

Nine voices sounded in a row before the nine chains snapped. 2

Lorraine lost her strength to struggle, so her body began to fall.

However, someone caught her quickly.

David looked at Lorraine in his arms, his brows tightly furrowed together.

When he had just come out of the space crack, he saw this woman from the same planet as him in a very poor condition, seemingly almost on the verge of death.

And the thing that caused her condition was the nine chains pierced into her body.

Before he had time to ask what was going on, David took out the Evil-Splitting Sword, which could cut everything in the world, and swung it, cutting off all nine chains.

Then, he caught Lorraine.

Seeing the severed heads of the nine chains still inside Lorraine's body, David injected some energy into her body and forced out all the severed heads of the nine chains.

Without the chains absorbing her energy, Lorraine's Saint's body slowly recovered.

David hated the fact that her recovery was so slow, so he took out the Stone of Life. He ignored whether it was improper for men and women to touch each other and directly tore off Lorraine's gauze dress that was stained red and pressed the Stone of Life against her wound.

The boundless vitality entered through the wound.

Soon, the body that was already shriveled started recovering at a speed visible to the naked eye.

David breathed a sigh of relief.

Lorraine was finally out of danger.

Lorraine was in a very dangerous state just now and she would have died if he was not careful.

Her body was completely hollowed out, and she almost turned into a dry corpse.

Fortunately, the Stone of Life injected boundless vitality into her.

Otherwise, it would be hard to predict how she would turn out if she were to rely on her self-recovery alone.

The main fear was that her injuries were so serious.

Even if she had a Saint's body, there was no way for her to save herself.

David could not say that he liked Lorraine, but he did not hate her either.

Based on the fact that both of them came from Earth, he could not just sit idly by and do nothing.

David seemed to have done everything in one go from the moment he appeared. He took a very short time to cut off the nine chains, rescue Lorraine, and take out the Stone of Life to help her out of danger.

This was because, at that moment, time was life.

Only after he did everything did the four sisters, Nova, and the others, come to their senses.

"You scoundrel! It's you again!" Eira looked at David with raging anger burning in her eye. She wished that she could tear David into pieces and grind his bones into ashes.

How could she not remember David?

This guy, together with his master, rescued Celeste and snatched her master's sword, the Ice Soul Excalibur.

And now he was here again to ruin her master's plan.

The other three sisters also stared at David angrily.

If looks could kill, then David would have died multiple times.

Although the four were staring at David with malicious gazes, none of them took any action.

They knew their physical conditions.

Nova was overjoyed to see David's appearance.

Fortunately, he came just in time.

If he came a little later, the consequences would have been horrible.

After David resolved Lorraine from her crisis, he looked at the nine chains that had been cut off by him and quickly retracted into the forbidden area, as well as the four sisters.
'What is this thing?'

Recommended Novels