

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 2062

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2062-'Are they the secrets of the forbidden area?

'What is the source of the chain?

'Who sent out the two blue lights just now?

'And those four old women, their bodies are sluggish, and they are almost completely useless.

'How did two peak True Saints and two late True Saints end up in such a tragic end?

'What the hell happened?'

David had many questions in his mind.

He wanted to ask Nova about this but felt that the timing was wrong.

After all, she was the Iridescent Sect's head.

On the other hand, David had a hostile relationship with the four reputable elders of the Iridescent Sect, so doing so would be tantamount to harming her.

'I should just find the answer myself!'

The huge vitality possessed by the Stone of Life pulled Lorraine back from the brink of death, and she gradually regained consciousness.

After her eyes opened slightly, she saw a handsome side profile.

'Aren't I dead?

'Why is this different from what I imagined?

'Why is David here?

'Am I hallucinating?

'Whatever!'

Lorraine did not care either.

In any case, she was running out of time and \ would soon leave this world.

Even so, there was one more thing she wanted to figure out before she died.

“D-David,” Lorraine mumbled in a weak voice.

David was observing the forbidden area and was ready to use his mind power to investigate.

After hearing Lorraine calling out to him, he lowered his head and looked at the other party. He did not speak, but there was a questioning look in his eyes.

“W-Why did you... reject me in front of so many people at the grand event of the chosen ones? How am I not worthy of you? I don't think I am inferior to any woman around you, but you can accept them and not me. Why? I know I am dying, David, but can you give me an explanation? I don't want to die with regrets.” Lorraine's voice was full of grievances.

Her questions directly confused David.

He thought about them carefully for a moment.

Then, he realized she was talking about what happened on Earth.

Back then at the grand event of the chosen ones, he had inadvertently won the final victory and won the title of number one among the younger generation in Somerland. At that time, The Krums, which was also the organizer, stated that the winner should end up with Lorraine.

However, he refused on the spot.

How could he follow such a rule?

What day and age were they in and they were still doing this?

How could they be together if they did not have feelings for each other?

There was a difference between humans and animals.

Humans relied on emotion and were unlike animals, who relied on instinct.

Lorraine was beautiful and excellent but back then, she was just a stranger to David.

Besides, he already had Celia.

Due to this, how could he accept Lorraine?

What David did not expect was that Lorraine still remembered after so many years.

Plus, she asked him right after she was saved.

Apparently, these questions had been bothering her so much that she was still thinking about them even though she knew she was dying.

David looked at the woman in his arms.

Although she had regained a little of her vitality, her face was still pale and there was no color on it.

Her big eyes were only opened slightly.

However, this morbid beauty made Lorraine look even more pitiful.

“Stop thinking about it, you won’t die if I’m here. Let’s talk about these things later! Now, you should focus on yourself first and absorb a little more vitality. It will be good for your recovery.”

After David finished speaking, he stopped looking at Lorraine, turned his head, and fixed his eyes on the forbidden area.

He knew that today’s matter was not over.

The forbidden area of the Iridescent Sect had been exposed and the secrets hidden within were bound to be revealed.

The guy who emitted those two blue lights would not be easy to deal with.

Recommended Novels