I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2094-Even in a level 9 civilization like Leila, there were very few forces with partial Pre-Deity death warriors.

Most of the death warriors were Saints.

David had three clones who would attack at any cost, so as long as Azul was not a Pre-Deity, there would be no chance for him to escape.

If worse came to worst, David would trade the three for his life.

He would only waste three drops of blood essence.

Azul's thoughts at this time were exactly the opposite of David's.

After recovering from his injuries, he regained some confidence. Perhaps he felt like he had the power to inflict damage on his enemies again.

Even in the face of a siege from four partial Pre-Deities, he could drag one down with him if he only targeted one of them without caring about the rest.

No partial Pre-Deities would be willing to sacrifice themselves.

In addition to the Feather family's threat to Star Kingdom, Azul figured that he was probably safe today.

David would not risk attacking him.

Even if David insisted on killing Azul, the other three might not be so willing.

Azul was not afraid of fighting David by himself.

"David, may I know what your answer is?" Azul asked.

David ignored Azul and looked at Sid, Zenon, and the several Sacred Saints.

"Lord Sid, everyone, you are the deputy heads of Star Kingdom's TSA, and today's matter is related to the safety of the entire Star Kingdom. What would you do? I want to hear everyone's opinions," David asked.

He finally handed over the decision to Sid and others to let them choose.

This concerned the fate of Star Kingdom, and David did not dare to decide on his own.

If he made the wrong choice, he might become the sinner of Star Kingdom.

Zenon and the others looked at each other. They seemed a little undecided.

In reality, they were inclined to let Azul go.

In this way, the two sides would have a chance to alleviate the tension.

If they killed Azul and the Feather family came, the situation would be hopeless, and it would spell disaster for Star Kingdom.

Even though they wanted this, they were a little afraid to bring it up, fearing that it would not suit David's wishes.

Now that David was the actual ruler of Star Kingdom, who would dare to disagree with him?

Not only was he a partial Pre-Deity, but he could also command three other partial Pre-Deities to fight alongside him.

The four powerhouses who surpassed Peak Sacred Saint Rank had the same idea.

Since there were no Pre-Deities among them, David was invincible.

Especially Zenon, who already had beef with David and his master.

He did not dare to speak anymore.

On the inside, Sid wanted David to kill Azul.

Letting Azul go was tantamount to deferring the trouble to the future. Not to mention it would be even more dangerous than right now.

If a master from a powerful background like Azul had suffered such a great humiliation in Star Kingdom, he would never let it go.

Hence, he would definitely bring someone back for revenge.

However, Zenon dared not bring it up.

The three partial Pre-Deities had not even said anything, so how could they give their opinions?

Seeing that no one spoke, David continued, "Don't worry, everyone. Just say what you have in mind, and I will consider everyone's opinions comprehensively. After all, the matter is of great importance. If you make a wrong choice, it may destroy Star Kingdom."

Azul was frustrated.

'What is David doing?

'Is he going to let those ants decide on my fate?novelxo

'Do I not deserve any dignity?'

Saints had the highest combat power in a level 7 civilization, but in a level 9 civilization, they were just average and were even used as cannon fodder.

Only those who ignited the Divine Fire and had the Divine Power could be considered as strong.

He, Azul, was also a direct descendant of the Feather family who had awakened his innate talent and was a genius in Leila. Even if he was at the bottom of the ranks, he was still a genius in a level 9 civilization, alright?

Azul conceded to losing to David.

After all, there was power in numbers, and he had also been ambushed.

However, how could a few ants and cannon fodder decide his fate?

Wasn't David obviously insulting him?
