

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 2096

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2096-For Azul, the most important thing was to save himself first.

Nothing else mattered.

He would only think about taking revenge after he escaped this.

If he was dead, so what if the Feather family sent someone to destroy Star Kingdom even after they got the news?

He would still be dead.

Humans only lived once.

Once he lost his life, everything else would be in vain.

“David, I have realized my mistake for what happened just now, and I apologize. I hope you can give me a chance as this will be good for both parties. You can’t afford to gamble, because if you lose, the entire Star Kingdom will be turned into ruins. At the same time, I also can’t afford to bet on this. After all, I only have one life,” Azul begged aggrievedly.

A genius of a level 9 civilization like him not only did not get the treatment he deserved when he came to a level 7 civilization. He even had to lower himself and beg for reconciliation in a low voice.

This was beyond humiliating.

However, he had no other choice.

If he did not lose his dignity, he would lose his life.

Azul still knew what to prioritize between his dignity and life.

Obviously, life was more important.

“It’s useless for you to tell me these things. In my heart, you are a treacherous villain who’s not worth forming a deep bond with. I, David Lidell, will not make a second mistake.” David shook his head, not believing Azul’s words at all.

“Then what do you really want? Do you really want a life-and- death struggle? It will feel good for you to kill me, but David, have you thought about your family? What about your friends? What about the countless people in Star Kingdom? They will all pay for your choice today,” Azul said after taking a deep breath.

Since his suits for peace were rejected several times, he knew that David would never give him another chance.

Since there was nothing he could do, Azul no longer decided to show excessive passion to David anymore.

‘That’s why I don’t want to decide this matter alone. Deputy heads of the Saints Association, you are all the most powerful and prestigious people in Star Kingdom, so tell me what you think in case you blame me after I make my decision.’

David said and looked at Sid, Zenon, and the others.

They returned to the earlier discussion.

Zenon exchanged glances with the rest of them. He wanted to express his opinion, but when he thought of the beef between him and the master and disciple duo, he shrank back a little.

David probably saw what he was thinking.

Hence, he added, “You guys can just tell me without any scruples. I, David Lidell, am not the kind of person who can’t even listen to suggestions, nor am I a small-hearted and narrow-minded person. Otherwise, those who offend me would not be able to stand here anymore. Compared to the fate of Star Kingdom, everything else is trivial and can be completely ignored.”

Zenon knew David was saying that to him.

Hence, he plucked up the courage to stand forward and said, “Master David, I have something to say.”

“Go on!” David replied.

“First of all, I want to sincerely apologize to you. I’m sorry! In fact, I…”

Zenon originally wanted to apologize to clear up the misunderstanding with David, but he was interrupted by the other party before he could say anything.

‘That’s enough. I don’t want to hear this. If you want to say something, just tell me your opinion and suggestion for the matter at hand. You don’t need to say anything else,’ David said without any expression on his face.

After Zenon was interrupted, he was stunned. However, he came back to his senses very quickly.

He was not mad, and of course, he did not dare to be mad.novelxo

With David's current strength, he would accept even if David yelled at him, let alone interrupted him.

'I shouldn't say anything else, right? Then let's talk business!'

Recommended Novels