

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 2104

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2104-The last signal sent by Azul could penetrate even the barrier of the nine-dimensional space, so David was powerless.

With his partial Pre-Deity strength, he could only enter the nine-dimensional space at best.

In a higher-dimensional space, David could not even open the space barrier, so how could he chase after Azul?

Sigh!

David sighed heavily.

Originally, he wanted to kill Azul with one blow, but in the end, things went in an undesirable direction.

The people from a level 9 civilization had too many tricks, so it would be very hard to guard against them.

Even at the moment of death, one would fall into the opponent's trap if one did not pay attention.

According to what Azul said, Star Kingdom and David still had 300 years to prepare.novel.xo

Judging from this, the distance between Star Kingdom and Leila was quite significant.

It took them more than a year from the Milky Way to Star Kingdom.

Moreover, the capabilities of a level 9 civilization were not comparable to Star Kingdom.

Hence, their speed would definitely be much faster.

Based on this, the distance from Star Kingdom to Leila would be at least five hundred times the distance between Star Kingdom and the Milky Way.

How far was that?

David had no idea either.

He did not know how advanced the technological level of level 9 civilization was nor how fast the vehicles were.

Therefore, he had no idea how to calculate the time.

'Sigh, how annoying/

Three hundred years was long enough for the humans on Earth. After all, the average lifespan of humans on Earth was between 150 and 200 years old, and not many people could live beyond 200 years old.

However, for an average person who was at the bottom tier of Star Kingdom, three hundred years was just around the corner.

Even ordinary people at the lowest level in the Star Kingdom could live for hundreds or even a thousand years without any problem at all using genetic modification technology.

Those who were rich and powerful could even live for thousands of years.

How should they avert the crisis surrounding the Feather family that would come in three hundred years?

David felt a lot of pressure on him.

Currently, he was the only one who had this ability.

The others like Sid, Zenon, and the other Sacred Saints were basically useless.

The Feather family was coming, and the possibility of them sending a Pre-Deity was very high.

In that case, David himself must first become a Pre-Deity, and with the help of his clones, he could save Star Kingdom.

However, the problem he was facing now was that he could no longer improve his strength.

Even if he spent all the money in the system, he still would not gain any lavish points needed for the next upgrade.

'Right!'

David suddenly remembered.

According to the previous rules of the system, Azul had contacted the Feather family located in level 9 civilization Leila, so the system should continue to upgrade.

It was the same when they were on Earth.

David quickly turned on the system to check.

It was exactly as he imagined.

The system had started a new round of upgrades.

There was only one sentence.

[The system is being upgraded. Please wait.]

After the upgrade was complete, the system should be connected to the network of level 9 civilization Leila.

However, there was one more problem now.

He was in Star Kingdom, so how should he spend money to get lavish points?

David wanted to go to the edge of Leila first, improve his strength to Pre-Deity, and then come back. He felt that if he was traveling alone, he would be much faster than the Feather family's entire gang. Then, he should be able to catch up.

However, he did not know the way.

When he was on Earth, he had Pavan's servants leading the way.

Now that Azul and the four elders of the Iridescent Sect were all dead, who would guide him?

'Whatever, I will only think about this after the system finishes upgrading.'

Recommended Novels