I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2114-Just now, he did not exert much force at all.

Despite this, the python had unexpectedly died.

The giant python looked rather intimidating.

The scales all over its body were silvery white, and there were two horns measuring nearly ten centimeters on its head.

'Perhaps it's evolving, but I didn't expect it to be so weak.

'What a mess.'

David had no idea that this was no ordinary python.

It was a flood dragon that was transformed from a python.

Although not a real dragon, it still had the word 'dragon' in its name.

Therefore, it was the overlord of this area.

When it saw David appearing suddenly, the flood dragon thought that its food had arrived.

It had eaten many humans before and each of them had been beneficial for its growth.

In the end, it did not expect to trip and fall and ultimately get killed by a light punch.

Shaking his head, David stopped paying attention to the python and began to look around.

Numerous towering trees towered around him.

This place looked like an old-growth forest.

'Is this The Spirit Cage?'

He then lifted his hand and put his right hand on the back of his left hand. After pinching the skin there, he twisted hard.

"Hiss!"

David gasped.

'It hurts so f*cking bad!

'It's so realistic!'

Walking in front of the python's corpse, David reached out and touched the python's silver-white scales before tearing off a piece and throwing it forward lightly.

The scale spun and flew out, piercing a big tree with a diameter of two meters. Then, it continued to fly forward without stopping until it passed through several big trees and then plunged into a tree with a diameter of at least five meters. After this, it didn't come out again.

'It's so smooth and also very sharp!

'If the scales on its body alone can achieve such an effect, this snake shouldn't be that weak!

'How come it couldn't even block a single one of my punches?'

David was a little puzzled.

After thinking about it, he still could not understand what was going on.

'Never mind! Let's leave first!'

Finding a city to see if he could trade was the most important task on his plate right now.

With one leap, David disappeared.

Not long after David left, a team of five or six people was walking by cautiously and slowly.

"C-Captain, w-why do I feel like something is wrong? It's too quiet. Have we strayed into the territory of some overlordlevel beast?" One of the members of the team asked cautiously.

His voice sounded shaky.

"W-What are you talking about? I am familiar with this area. There aren't any overlord-level beasts. They are all low-level beasts," the leading man replied.

However, he did not sound too confident.

Obviously, he did not even believe what he said.

“Captain, y-you won’t harm us, right? I don’t want to die. I just want to find some medicinal materials to go back and increase my mind power, so that I can be more confident when I breakthrough.”

“What’s the good of me harming you? Won’t I be harming myself too if I harm you? Who doesn’t want to find some good things to take back? Those places outside have been trampled to pieces, so how can there be anything good left there? If you want treasures, you have to go into the depths of the dense forest. Wealth is obtained by taking risks, do you understand?”

“I understand, I understand! But I don’t want to die!”

“Who wants to die? Do I want to die?”

The men talked cautiously as they walked.

‘Hmm?’

They found that their field of vision in front of them had suddenly become wider.

The sunlight hitting the ground immediately aroused the vigilance of the team.

It was definitely not normal to see the sun shining through the cover of towering trees in the dense old-growth forest.

There was usually something strange going on when things appeared abnormal.
