I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2145-When this group of people walked out, David counted eight of them.

Three men and five women.

Except for their wings, they were similar to ordinary humans.

However, they were better looking, but this was only compared with ordinary people.

If compared with David, they were still a little inferior.

When other people saw these guys, some stopped to take a look, and others did not even pay any attention at all. It was probably because they were used to it.

Since they came out from the descending point, it would mean that this was not their first time here.

David stepped forward to pass them by. While he was doing that, he took a closer look and confirmed that their wings were indeed growing directly from their backs.

After the other party disappeared, David stopped a passerby and asked for information about these people.

They were Vingeans, a smaller branch of human beings living on a planet called Planet Vinge in Leila.

The Vingeans were born with two wings.

As they grew, their wings would also grow feathers. Once they had all of their feathers, they would be able to fly.

They were also a very talented race.

After learning about the Vingeans, David stopped paying attention to them.

He had just been curious as this was the first time he saw this.

Then, David continued to visit Nightingale City.

Whenever he saw a place that was selling things, he would go in and take a look.

After wandering around, David frowned.

Although Nightingale City was more prosperous than Crow City, it seemed that it would not be so easy to spend 20 billion L Dollars in a short period of time here either.

The things for sale were all too cheap for David, let alone the daily necessities.

Even if he bought all the houses in the city, it would not cost much.

Even weapons and equipment and rare treasures were not very expensive.

They only ranged from tens of thousands to tens of millions.

The ones costing tens of millions were few and far in between.

The point was that somethings marked with a price of tens of millions were not actually worth that price at all.

Even if David bought it, the system would only account for the real value.

This troubled David a lot.

The things here would cost 2 million a piece on average, so it would mean he had to buy tens of thousands of pieces to spend 20 billion L Dollars.

Tens of thousands!

How many would that be?

They would pile up into a mountain.

David was very depressed. 'What should I do?

'I can't possibly collect all the rare treasures in the city!'

David was not willing to do things that were too high-profile.

It was not that he was afraid of attracting attention.

With his current strength, it would not matter if he did.

If anyone dared to attack him, they would get what they deserved.

However, because of his personality, David genuinely did not like being in the spotlight.

Nightingale City was only a third-tier city, and the people stationed here were all from small families from the remote places of Leila.

For example, the Nacht family was one of the top families in Nightingale City.

However, in the real world, Planet Lucio, where the Nacht family was located, was a very remote planet in Leila.

It was not impressive at all.

The real major forces would be stationed in cities above the first tier, or even the main city.

That was where the big bucks were.

In The Spirit Cage, even though the third-tier city, Nightingale City, did not seem to be too far from a second-tier or first-tier city, there was a huge gap between them.

Basically, any force in a second-tier city could annihilate a third-tier city.

From this, one could see how big the gap in strength was.

However, David had no idea about this.

He was a little skeptical. 'Are the prices in The Spirit Cage so low?

'If so.

'It'll be even harder to spend a lot of money.

'Gosh!'
