I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2168-‘That was back then! This is the present. We, the Robotias, have not been idle all these years. We will definitely surprise you.’

“I heard that the Robotias have discovered a special substance that can be extracted to create an Lv 6 body that can withstand the attack of the Overlords and not suffer any damage. It seems to be true.”

“You Leilans are so well-informed!”

“Of course! Do you think Leila could survive throughout the endless years of the universe without some strong sources?”

“Elora, since you know this, then you should also understand that Leila has no chance of winning this time, and you, Elora, are just the beginning. Soon, we will wipe out Leila and completely occupy this place.”

“If you want to invade and occupy Leila, you have to ask the sword in my hand if it agrees!”

After Elora finished speaking, she swung the three-foot green sword in her hand.

A sword light instantly spanned the distance between the two and appeared in front of the ball-shaped object as if it was about to cut it open.

‘You’re so stubborn!’

After the ball-shaped object said that, it exploded and broke into pieces, turning into many small objects that could move freely.

At the same time, they also perfectly dodged the sword light.

Although some damage was done to the robots in the middle, it was almost negligible compared to the huge number of Robotias.

“Go to hell!” Elora gritted her teeth and snorted coldly.

Then, she charged over alone with her sword.

The ball-shaped form turned into densely packed and endless stream of small robots.

There was a number above each of them.

The most were Lv 1, then Lv 2. The higher the level, the lesser the number.

Among them, the number of Lv 5 bots was pitifully small.

As for the Lv 6 Elora mentioned, they had not appeared yet, so it was possible it was still hidden.

The numbers represented the hierarchy of the Robotias.

The higher the level, the greater the strength.

Corresponding to the humans, Lv 1 was Star Realm, Lv 2 was Universe Realm, Lv 3 was Eternal Realm, Lv 4 was Saint Realm, Lv 5 was Divine Realm, and Lv 6 would be Overlord Realm that went beyond Divine Realm.

Elora held her three-foot green sword and rushed among the densely packed Robotias.

With every swing of her sword, a hundred thousand or more Robotias turned to dust.

Lv 1 and Lv 4 were not very different in front of an Overlord.

That was to say, only a Lv 5 combat power which was equivalent to a human in Divine Realm would play a little role or even attempt to avoid Elora's attack at critical moments and ensure their own safety.

Furthermore, this was only when an Overlord was not targeting them.

Otherwise, a Lv 5 would only be courting death in front of an Overlord.

From the looks of it, this battle was not of the same magnitude at all.

Although the Robotias were too numerous to count, who was their opponent?

Empress Elora was one of the five Leila rulers and an Overlord that was beyond Divine Realm. They would not win through sheer numbers alone.

Robotias of this level would only be courting death no matter how many of them were there.
