I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2171-In the hall of Treasure Pavilion in the trading street of Sole, a second-tier city in The Spirit Cage, David looked down at the little girl in front of him who looked like a porcelain doll that was clutching his thigh tightly. Her face was so red that she looked pinchable.

In the end, David still could not hold back. He bent down, stretched out his hand, and pinched the little girl's flushed little face.

Not only did the little girl not refuse, but she raised her head and rubbed against David's hand.

While she was doing that, she let out a pleasant sigh.

"Hmm, this feels so good."

David was amused by the little girl's behavior and asked with a smile, "Little girl, what's your name?"

The little girl shook her head and said with a trace of grievance, "Sir, I really forgot everything. When I opened my eyes, I found myself lying in a strange place and I couldn't remember everything. I don't know why I'm here and I don't know my name."

"Did you forget where your home is?"

"Yeah!" The little girl nodded.

'She has amnesia,' thought David.

He has studied traditional medicine systematically and was pretty good at it.

So, he knew that amnesia could be serious.

"Little girl, can I examine your body?" David asked.

After he finished speaking, he felt that there was something wrong with this sentence.

'Why does it sound so awkward when I say it?'

Before he could figure out what the problem was, the little girl replied without hesitation, "Okay!"

She did not seem to show any resistance when speaking to David.

David stopped thinking about it. So, he squatted and began to check the little girl's body.

After some careful observation, he felt that the little girl's soul was damaged, which led to her amnesia.

'Could it be that her family put her in The Spirit Cage to nourish her soul?

'This possibility is very high.

'After all, The Spirit Cage can restore soul power quickly.

'But why are there no adults with her?

'How is a 7 or 8-year-old little girl going to survive in The Spirit Cage?

'It will be horrible if she encounters a bad guy.

'Or did something happen to her family, and that's why they're not with her?'

There were too many possibilities, so David could not determine the exact situation.

'I can only find out after her soul is restored.'

"Little girl, there is nothing wrong with your health. As long as you stay in The Spirit Cage for a while, you will recover slowly. Then, you will be able to remember your name, your relatives, and your home," David comforted her.

"Really?" The little girl looked expectant.

"Well, of course, it's true! I never lie, but little kids also can't steal. Stealing will turn you into a bad kid."

"B-But the things I stole are all useful to me. I want to grow up quickly and restore my memory. If I don't steal, it will take a long, long time. I can't wait that long," said the little girl sadly.

David fell into deep thought again.

Stealing these treasures should be due to the little girl's instinct as eating them could speed up the recovery of her soul power.

Suddenly, he had an idea.

'Why don't I just take the little girl with me?'

'I can spend money to buy all kinds of treasures from The Spirit Cage for her to eat to help her recover her soul power.

'I don't need them anyway.

'I'm happy as long as the transaction is completed and I have the lavish points credited into my account. As for the purchased items, it doesn't matter who I give them to.'
