I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2175-After some registration and appraisal, Thor eventually concluded that the value of the treasure stolen by Pebbles was around 500 billion L Dollars.

On average, each of the thirty people would get less than 20 billion.

In reality, this price was already very low as it was based on just the cost price of the treasure.

With David's strength, no one dared to make a false statement, so they reported based on the actual situation.

In three months, Pebbles had stolen a lot of treasures.

The most painful fact was that she was not interested in the average treasures and would only steal the precious ones.

In the first month, everyone suffered heavy losses.

After all, it was an unexpected situation, and some were caught off guard.

After taking precautions, Pebbles had a much lower success rate.

However, she could always find a way to steal the treasure.

One had no choice but to admire the ability of the little girl.

If David did not say the last sentence and showed his strength a little bit, the final price would have at least doubled, exceeding one trillion.

Some people would make a false report or raise the price to seek ill-gotten gains.

However, since David had flexed his aura, it scared everyone into not daring to mess around.

Whether in the real world or The Spirit Cage world, strength was the most important thing.

The strong would be respected while the weak could only get bullied.

David was undoubtedly one of the strong, so he would be respected by everyone.

No one dared to take advantage of him.

David did not say anything and directly transferred the 500 billion L Dollars to Thor before asking him to distribute the money to everyone.

After he distributed all of the money, Thor still had an incredible look on his face.

Everyone else was taking it for granted.

They thought David was Pebbles' family, so this was not that surprising.

However, Thor knew that David and Pebbles had only just met and yet he spent 500 billion L Dollars to pay off the little girl's debt.

'Is this how a rich man behaves?'

Sure enough, ordinary people could not understand.

Even though the high-end businessmen who frequented the trading street of Sole were no longer ordinary people, they still could not understand David's intentions.

After paying 500 billion L Dollars, David turned on the system immediately.

Just as he expected, he did not get any lavish points.

Although he was prepared, it was still a bit disappointing.

'I would have gotten five thousand lavish points!

'If only I could get them, I could then break through again!

'Then, I would have gotten to the second realm of Divine Realm, Primordial Deity Rank.'

It was a pity that although he paid L Dollars, he did not get anything, so it was not considered a transaction and he could not get any lavish points.

'Thank you for your generosity, Master David.'

"Yes! Thank you, Master David, for compensating our losses. I thought these losses would never be recovered."

"I've already gotten over it. After all, she's a child so it's understandable for her to make some small mistakes, but I didn't expect you to be so generous."

“Mr. Trullo is right! Everyone can understand that children will make mistakes. In truth, we had many ways to catch Princess Pebbles, but we really couldn’t bear it since she’s so cute.”

“Exactly! Exactly! Princess Pebbles is so cute and we all like her very much, so that’s why we couldn’t bear to go overboard and simply let her go.” All the bosses expressed their gratitude to David
