

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 2202

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2202-“Kid, I seriously doubt you can take out so much money. I think you are just bidding for fun,” the person who competed with David said while suppressing his anger.

“It’s none of your business. If I can’t take out the money, the organizer will come for me. You don’t need to worry about this,” David replied lightly.

The man stopped talking and looked at David like he wanted to swallow him alive.

He could take out 200 billion L Dollars, but that was all he could afford.

Looking at David’s demeanor, it was clear that he could still continue.

However, the man was not reconciled to just giving up like this.

‘Maybe he’s just bluffing so that I’ll give up willingly.’

Gritting his teeth, the man called out again, “200...”

Before he could name the price, David had bid again.

“250 billion!”

Everyone in the hall looked at David dumbfounded.

‘How much money do you need to do such a crazy thing?’

‘He added another 50 billion before the man even named his price!’

‘Did his money grow on trees?’

‘Even if he has money, this is not the way to spend it, right?’

On the other side of the wall, Black Fox was stunned.

Immediately, ecstasy appeared in his eyes.

His heart also blossomed with joy.

‘Good! Great!’

'Hahaha!

'That's great.

'This person's performance is definitely in line with the big spenders of a certain major force!'

The stronger the background of the person who bought the Elven Princess, the better for Black Fox.

It would be nice if they could compete with the Elves and attract all of their focus and energy.

That way, Black Fox could sit back and relax.

In addition to that, he could take the money and flee.

250 billion, even for Black Fox, was not a small number.

When he realized he had captured the Elven Princess, he almost thought that his life was over.

If he was found out by the Elves, he would surely lose his life.

He even thought about killing the Elven Princess in secret.

However, he gave up on that idea.

It would be too risky to do that.

Who knew if the Elves, an ancient race, had any special forbidden techniques?

In the end, he just chose to find someone to take the blame.

In the end, he did not expect to find a powerful backer.

What a pleasant surprise.

This delighted Black Fox very much.

"Hurry up and announce that we're selling the women to him," Black Fox urged the masked man beside him.

He was in a hurry and he had to sell the Elven Princess to this person.

In fact judging from the current situation, no one would want to outbid him anymore.

“Yes, my Lord! I’ll go right away.”

After speaking, he turned and left the room.

There was still silence in the hall.

The person competing with David was already scared speechless at this moment.

‘How can he disregard the rules just like that?’

‘I haven’t finished talking.’

‘Luckily we’re all wearing masks that hide our identities.’

‘If not, I would want to crawl into a hole.’

‘He’s such a bully!’

The masked man walked out of Black Fox’s room and came to the middle of the room. He announced directly, ‘The auction has ended. The five Elf women have been sold for 250 billion. Are there any objections?’

Everyone at the scene shook their heads.

Even if they were given time to come up with 250 billion, most could not even get it.

Thor chuckled bitterly at one side.