

I'm A Quadrillionaire

Chapter 2239

Chapter 2239

"Emperor Sylvio, the Soul Devourers haven't appeared for a long time. They must be after something now that they've appeared this time and joined hands with the Robotias to seriously injure Elora. How should we deal with them?" Emperor Drogo asked worriedly.

He was the weakest among the five rulers.

However, he had a quick mind and was good at analyzing the situation.

Elora was seriously injured by the Robotias and Soul Devourers, which made him instinctively feel that this matter was not trivial.

It was likely the enemy* sounding them out.

There would definitely be a second and a third time in the future.

What Emperor Sylvio said about keeping in touch at all times so that they would not get crushed one by one by the enemy was not a joke.

The Spirit Cage, which had been peaceful for a long time, was about to be chaotic again.

"Now that the enemy is in the dark, we can only take a more secure way to deal with them and that is, to defend. If you find yourself in a special situation in the future, you must notify other people as soon as possible and then act collectively. Don't try to be the hero. As long as the four of us work together, our enemies would have to reconsider, no matter if they're the Robotias, Soul Devourers, or the combination of the two races," Emperor Sylvio replied.

"I agree with what Emperor Sylvio said. The best way for us now is to defend. If we want to attack directly and go to the Robotias* lair as Emperor Lufian said, what if we fall into the trap of the two races? Who will guard the countless creatures in The Spirit Cage? Everyone knows that as long as the Robotias are separated from their mother brain, their combat effectiveness will be weakened, so we can't go there," Emperor Valentin voiced his approval of Emperor Sylvio.

"I also agree! While we are defending, we must also actively look for Elora. She is the only one who understands the situation at the time. As long as we find her, everything will be clear. We can also take more effective measures to deal with the Robotias and Soul Devourers joining forces," Emperor Drogo also echoed.

At this time, Emperor Lufian gradually calmed down.

When he discovered that Empress Elora was seriously injured by the Robotias and disappeared, he was indeed quite angry.

He wanted to go directly to the Robotias' lair and destroy the other party.

Now after everyone's analysis, Emperor Lufian also realized his recklessness.

The Robotias and Soul Devourers must have thought of the consequences when they dared join forces to attack Elora.

If he rushed to the Robotias' lair, the possibility of him being ambushed by them was very high.

Coupled with the Robotias' mother brain in their lair, the combat effectiveness of all the Robotias would soar.

It would be very disadvantageous for them.

So Emperor Lufian also agreed, "Since everyone agrees, then I have no objection! We'll just do what Senior Emperor Sylvio said!"

"Lufian, Elora is one of the five Leila rulers. We're all very worried now that she's in trouble and we all want to avenge her. But now, our priority is to protect ourselves and The Spirit Cage behind us. After that, we will find a way to look for Elora, and you can avenge her only after you understand the situation. If something happens to us, the consequences will be serious," Emperor Drogo persuaded.

"I understand."

"Since everyone agrees, then do as I said and keep in touch at all times. One more thing, we can't let others know about Elora's disappearance as it will cause panic among the various forces in The Spirit Cage," Emperor Sylvio concluded.

"Understood!" The other three Overlords replied at the same time.

Afterward, this barren land that had gone through a terrifying battle fell into silence.

The disappearance of Empress Elora, one of the five Leila rulers, was not known to others except for the four Overlords.

Once the outside world found out, there would inevitably be turmoil and panic.

In the entire level 9 civilization The Spirit Cage, there were only five Overlords in total.

They were the deterrent force of The Spirit Cage, the key figures to prevent the invasion of other level 9 civilizations, and the pillars of The Spirit Cage.

Now that Empress Elora has disappeared and her life and death were unknown, anyone with a brain knew that this calm was the prelude to a storm.

Concealment was the best way to maintain the stability of The Spirit Cage.

Sole in The Spirit Cage.

David was living an idle life.

He had nothing to do and occasionally, he would take Pebbles and Princess Evie along with the Elf women to wander around Sole.

Thor would go every two or three days.

Every time, he would bring many treasures so that David's lavish points could increase significantly.

Beanie was currently looking for servants.

Since there were too many people who signed up and because of David's requirement of prioritizing virtue instead of talents, Beanie would interview everyone.

Therefore, it made her extremely busy.

Because of the Macee family incident, David was now very popular among the major forces in Sole.
