I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2266-After all, she grew up with Queen Isa and knew her very well.

“Master, since the opponent is very powerful, we will not be able to move forward now that we’re being blocked. Will they run into us?” Beanie asked worriedly.

“Don’t worry, everyone. Judging from the current situation, the other party has no intention of approaching us. Besides, even if they approach us, I’m here, aren’t I?” David smiled.

He was not saying that because he was arrogant, but it was because he could.

After so long in The Spirit Cage, David had yet to meet an opponent he could take seriously.

The strength one had in The Spirit Cage was a reflection of their soul’s power in the real world.

In other words, the stronger the mind power in the real world, the stronger the strength in The Spirit Cage.

Coming to The Spirit Cage with David’s Ancestral level 10 mind power was absolutely terrifying.

In the absence of special circumstances, almost everyone’s strength in The Spirit Cage was far worse than in the real world.

Soul power was inherently difficult to cultivate, and it was also a weakness of human beings.

So, this was how The Spirit Cage was born and it was to allow everyone to enter here to enhance their soul power.

Otherwise, why would they come to The Spirit Cage?

For fun?

Judging from the aura that David sensed, the opponent was indeed very strong. He had never met them before, and he might not be able to defeat them.

However, David was not afraid at all. He even wanted to meet this strong person.

Yet after thinking about it, he decided to forget it.

Firstly, he had something he needed to take care of.

Secondly, after he left, no one would take care of Pebbles and the others so it would be bad if something happened.

There should be quite a few of this kind of powerhouse in the first-tier cities. So if he wanted to meet someone like this, it would be very easy to do so in Wier.

On the other side, the Elven Guards had arranged everything.

Queen Isa jumped off the top of the giant tree and quickly left in the direction of Wier and Amber City.

The Elven Guards followed closely behind.

They did not take transportation but traveled on their own. As a result, they would be tired after a long time and need to rest, but their speed would still be much faster than David and others using carriages.

If David were alone, he could also choose to do so.

However, since there were weaker people in his team, they could only take the carriages.

Otherwise, who could keep up with him if he ran with all his strength?

Queen Isa walked into the depths of the forest while David and others took the path.

There were hundreds of kilometers between the two, like two parallel lines.

However, because the two sides were headed in the same direction but had not reached the closest point, the more Queen Isa moved forward, the more David felt this powerful energy closing.

If David ignored it, Queen Isa would leave after getting to the closest point. After all, her speed was much faster than David and others.

Then, the distance between them would only get farther and farther.

Yet now, David had no idea.

As he stood on the carriage, he felt the breath of the other party getting closer.

After he frowned, he also released part of his energy.

He was telling the other party that there was also a powerhouse here, so do not approach.

Queen Isa, who was advancing fast, felt it and narrowed her eyes. Then, she instantly displayed stronger energy and sent it toward David and others.

It quickly crushed the energy released by David and directly enveloped them.

Evie was naturally also within the field of this energy.

She immediately felt the familiarity of this breath, and a look of surprise appeared in her eyes.

At the same time, Queen Isa paused in her tracks.

There was a murderous intent in her eyes.

She disappeared in a flash before the eyes of the Elven Guards behind her, leaving only one sentence.

“I’ve found Evie. I’ll go there now.”
