I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2295-Level 7 civilization Star Kingdom!

The Saints Association's headquarters in the Central Sacred Continent.

"Everyone, we can't pin all our hopes on Master David three hundred years later when the Feather family strikes.

Otherwise, if there is any accident, everything will be over and we will have no chance to regret our decision at all."

After Sid finished speaking, he looked at the silent people sitting below and continued, "According to the historical records of Star Kingdom, when two civilizations meet, the more advanced one will devour the less advanced one, and the stronger will devour the weaker with no exceptions.

There is no doubt that we are less advanced in the face of the unknown level 9 civilization. We are also weak, so if we want to survive, we must work together to tide over the difficulties."

At this time, Zenon suddenly spoke.

"Lord Sid, what you said is indeed very reasonable, but have you ever considered that if Master David can't fight off the Feather family, will there be hope even if we work together?"

After Zenon said that, others also spoke up one after another.

"Lord Sid is right. In the face of the invasion of other civilizations, we should work together to defend against foreign enemies, but it seems that what Zenon said is not wrong. The Feather family is from a level 9 civilization. So if even Master David can't do it, is there really a chance for the rest of us?"

"That's right! The methods of a level 9 civilization are not something a level 7 civilization can fathom and understand. I'm afraid that even if we try our best and use the entire Star Kingdom as a gambling chip, it will be in vain."

"Everyone, don't worry too much. I think Master David should be able to deal with the Feather family. After all, he is still so young and has already surpassed Saint Realm and reached the height of a partial Deity. His future achievements are limitless.”

“No one can say for sure. It’s not that I don’t trust Master David. It’s just that the means of a level 9 civilization are too scary. Of course, I also hope that Master David can deal with the Feather family and protect Star Kingdom. However, there is still a huge gap between a partial Deity and a real Deity. I am afraid that Master David will not be able to make further progress in these three hundred years and then everyone will be doomed.”

Everyone was expressing their opinions one after another. Most of them were pessimistic about the arrival of the Feather family.

David’s talent was truly terrifying.

Given enough time, they believed he could definitely become a real Deity.

However, three hundred years was really too short.

It was fleeting.

Although David’s previous progress could be described as rapid, no one believed that he could break through and become a real Deity in only three hundred years.

If it was so easy to get to Divine Realm, there would not be zero Deities in Star Kingdom now.

Sid did not stop everyone’s discussion.

When they were almost done, he spoke, “I understand what you all mean. I called everyone here this time to discuss a solution as to what we should do if Master David loses to the Feather family. If you have any opinions, feel free to raise them.”

As soon as Sid finished speaking, Zenon said immediately, “ Lord Sid, I have a proposal.”

“What is it?”

“We should still be prepared. It would be best if Master David could stop the Feather family, but if he couldn’t, we can’t have zero backup either.”

“Then what do you think our backup plan should be?” Sid asked.

“Gather the most potential direct descendants of the major forces and send them to the most remote places in Star Kingdom. Even if Master David can’t stop the Feather family, we can still have hope that our families won’t be wiped out.” Zenon’s words were supported by most of the people present, and some immediately echoed.

“Zenon is right. If no one can stop the Feather family, we should at least leave some hope for ourselves, right?”

“I agree to this proposal.”

“Me too!”

Sid did not say anything at the time being.

He was wondering why Zenon was saying that.

If it was really to leave some hope for the forces, it was a pretty good plan.

However, what if Zenon had ulterior motives?

According to Sid’s understanding of Zenon, he was an egoist and he would not sacrifice himself for Star Kingdom.

He would surely think of a way to get himself out of this.

What worried Sid was whether Zenon was moving his family away so that he could have no burdens and could easily flee himself.

This was very possible.

He was a peak Sacred Saint so Sid could not let him escape in the most critical time.

As for the others...
