I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2304-After that, Vaughn began to cry in pain.

“Ah...”

The next thing was... “Boom!”

His entire person turned into ashes with a sound and disappeared.

Not just his body disappeared, but his soul vanished as well.

Zenon and the rest looked at the scene terrifyingly and their bodies felt icy cold.

‘Did a Sacred Saint master just die like that?’

Although some of the Sacred Saint masters were not too kind to each other, they had been companions for years.

One of them dying was still a huge blow to the rest.

They finally understood, even if they had reached the Sacred Saint rank, their lives were still vulnerable.

Blue killed Vaughn with the intention of shocking the crowd.

At the same time, warning Sid that he would actually kill people if he got irritated.

He could settle Sacred Saints as easily as killing a bunch of ants.

After finishing Vaughn, Blue looked at Sid as if nothing had happened.

“Sid Griswold, the head of TSA right? I can tell from your name that you really want to protect the Star Kingdom. So just tell me David’s whereabouts, he should pay for the price of killing one of our family members. You should at least let me get what I want for my head of family right? If I am not pleased, you will have to pay the price, correct?”

Blue finished speaking.

Sid suddenly realized that he could talk again. He looked at Blue with a desperate expression.

'This man is a Divine Realm master, he is too powerful to begin with. Even if we gather all the forces from the Star Kingdom, we won't be able to harm even a hair on his head. What do we do now? Do I sacrifice David to save the kingdom or save him and sacrifice the rest? Who can guarantee that Blue will let the Star Kingdom go upon getting to David? If I insist on not saying a word, he will definitely do what he mentioned. Destroying ten thousand living planets will definitely alert David, who's currently cultivating on the Iridescent Continent. If he gets forced out, won't the destroyed living creatures be sacrificed for no reason?'

Sid was in a dilemma.

He had no idea how to choose.

"Old man, stop being indecisive. Just tell me if you're going to say it or not. Even if you insist on keeping quiet, I'll have no choice but to do as I mentioned. I'll give you one more minute, after that I will begin destroying this place. This is just a start and it's the first day, ten thousand living planets are waiting for me!"

Blue sounded calm but his murderous aura was killing people around him.

Killing someone was probably easier than stepping on an ant on the road.

Even Sahar was doubting his decision right now. 'Will I really end well by following such a hypocritical master?'

He could potentially end up like Vaughn if he made him angry someday.

However, after listening to their conversation, Sahar confirmed his decision.

The David they mentioned was the one who came to the Simmons Continent to kill Nek and had a bad relationship with the Simmons family, no?

'He's already at the partial Divine Realm now?'

He could only follow Blue if he wanted to seek revenge.

'I must see him die in front of me with my own eyes.'

Time was ticking.

One minute was about to end.

Blue's expression turned more and more ugly.

Just as he was about to destroy the land below him...

Sid finally spoke up.
