I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2358-If it was not for the tremendous pressure he felt from her, and knowing that he was no match, he might have attacked her long ago.

Why would he waste his breath here?

Elora realized that she was being sternly rejected.

After fully recovering her memory, she naturally assumed the identity of Elora.

Except for Sylvio, the four Overlords, who would dare to refuse her?

They would carry out every order without objections.

Unexpectedly, she was rejected, and only then did she understand.

They did not know she was Empress Elora, one of the five Leila rulers.

“You probably don’t know my identity yet,” Elora said suddenly.

“It’s useless no matter who you are. If you don’t leave, don’t blame us for teaming up to bully you.”

“If you can still say that after seeing me, I will leave without looking back.”

After Elora finished speaking, the green light dissipated to reveal her inside.

She did not show herself at the beginning because she was afraid of causing a sensation.

After all, her statue was erected in the center of Leila, and countless creatures visited it every day.

Some would come even after untold hardship, just to visit the five tall statues, all of them tens of thousands of feet high.

The five Leila rulers were in the hearts of almost every creature in Leila.

Empress Elora was the belief of all female creatures.

Anyone who dared to speak ill of the five Leila rulers in Leila would die a painful death.

Under the gaze of the trio, the green light dissipated, and a woman appeared.

The middle-aged woman's eyes widened into shock.

Elora was her idol and role model. Elora was also the direction she was working hard toward.

She hoped she would stand as tall as Elora one day, accepting the worship and admiration of all creatures in Leila.

The two men also recognized the person in front of them.

After all, the three had high statuses in Leila and were important figures in superpowers.

So, they had already tattooed the faces of the five Leila rulers in their hearts.

'You... You... You...'

The three stammered for a long time, unable to form a sentence.

Elora's appearance shocked them.

So much so that their brains failed them.

'You're right! I am Empress Elora. I came to The Spirit Cage for some special reasons. Now I need your help to collect all the precious treasures in Amber City and not spread the word so as not to cause a sensation,' Elora said in a deep voice.

'A-Are you really Empress Elora?' The middle-aged woman asked in disbelief.

She never expected this.

'Why is Empress Elora in The Spirit Cage?'

'Anyone at her level doesn't need to increase their soul power anymore, right?'

'I've never heard of any of the five Leila rulers entering The Spirit Cage.

'Why does Empress Elora need so many treasures?'
