

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 2365

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2365-Star Kingdom, the Iridescent Sect.

David sat in the secret room.

Tonight, he was going to test the results of his continuous research this past month.

He wanted to see if he could successfully create a clone that could protect the Star Kingdom and Earth when he was not around.

First, he forced out a drop of blood essence and tore away some of his soul.

David began to carefully brand his Cloning method on the soul torn out.

Once disturbed by the outside world, the soul would immediately cast Cloning to summon the clone.

That was not all.

If the clone could be summoned but could not get the clone to fight, it would be useless too.

There was an even more important step next.

David had to add his thoughts to the soul so that it could control the clone to fight.

The last part was very important so he could not make any mistakes.

After all, the torn soul was too weak.

If he was not careful, it would be damaged, and he would fail.

Two hours later, David finally finished his work.

He sealed the blood essence and soul in an exquisite small wooden box for easy carrying.

If the test was successful, Celia and the others were to carry two or three of these on their person to deal with emergencies.

When in danger, they could just take out the wooden box and break open the seal. Then, David's torn soul would immediately perform Cloning, summon the clone, and enter the clone to control the clone in a battle.

Of course, there was one more problem.

At level 4, David could only have nine clones at the same time.

He could not summon a tenth.

However, the probability of this was so low that it was almost negligible.

And as David raised his Cloning to level 5 in the future, this problem would be solved.

Wiping the sweat off his brow, David looked at his work with a satisfied smile.

It was done. Whether it would work or not, he would have to try it to know.

Holding the wooden box, David got up and left the secret room. Soon, he came to the place where Celia and others lived.

At this point, everyone had gone to sleep.

David sneaked to the outside of Celeste's room.

The reason he chose to let Celeste try, instead of Celia or others, was because Celeste was the strongest and she was a quick learner.

If she wanted to successfully summon David's clone, she must unlock the seal.

Celia and the others' strengths might not be enough to break the seal on the box quickly.

If Celeste could successfully summon David's clone, she could teach Celia and the others how to unlock the seal slowly.

Then, each would be equipped with two clones for selfdefense.

And their safety would be very much guaranteed.

After entering Celeste's room, David became a little distracted seeing the plump body in translucent clothes, lying on the bed.

Although he had contact with Celeste more than once, it was in fantasy after all.

He had not seen her body yet! So he did not know if it was the same in fantasy.

David knew that if he jumped on her right now, Celeste would not resist if she knew it was him.

However, David could not do that.

A man was not a creature of lust alone.

He would need to be accountable for things once they were done.

Since he could not make any promises, he should not get involved.

After David thought about this thoroughly and figured it out, maybe he would take everyone in.

As for now, he still could not get over that hurdle in his heart.

David stood not far from the bed, staring at Celeste's plump body in a daze.

Celeste opened her eyes suddenly and slowly awakened.

When she found a figure in the room, her first reaction was to be alarmed. She wanted to scream.

That was a woman's instinct.

Many women were strong but still timid.

Fortunately, David moved quickly. Just as Celeste was about to scream, he leaned over to cover her mouth and keep her from screaming.