I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2387-Level 9 civilization Leila.

On top of a sealed dead star, a looming figure appeared suddenly.

It was Elora, who had forcibly left The Spirit Cage by using her powerful soul power.

Since she self-detonated to survive the battle with the Robotias and Soul Devourers, Elora's physical body disappeared and could only appear as a soul.

Fortunately, she won the bet this time.

When her soul entered The Spirit Cage to recover, she met David, and in just two years, she recovered to the point where she could use her backup.

Then, she used the treasures of heaven and earth harvested from the eight main cities of The Spirit Cage to restore her soul power to 80% of its peak.

That was why she was able to leave The Spirit Cage.

If it weren't for David, the time taken would have been significantly longer, possibly by a factor of hundreds.

Elora looked at everything in front of her and frowned.

The moment she exploded, her soul power was in a coma because of the huge impact, so she was completely unaware of what happened afterward.

She only remembered that she injected a bit of her soul into the Emerald Lotus Sword and let the sword leave with it.

According to the situation at that time, coupled with the current scene, Elora could roughly guess what happened after she blew herself up.

The Emerald Lotus Sword must have brought her soul to this dead star, sent it to The Spirit Cage for recovery, and then sealed this star.

That trace of soul entered The Spirit Cage and became a little girl who stole for a living.

She was young then but she was still the soul of an Overlord.

Therefore, she still had some unique talents.

Even after she was discovered multiple times, the businessmen, with Thor in the lead, would never have dared do anything to her.

After that, she ran into David and was given the name 'Pebbles'.

Elora lifted her head to look at the seal on the planet. Her heart felt heavy.

The Emerald Lotus Sword would need to use a lot of energy to do all of this after she fell into a coma.

Now, it might have used up all of its energy.

With a wave of her hand, a sword that lost its luster flew from afar and landed in Elora's hand.

A materialized soul power could do a lot of things that normal people could not.

Of course, there was a limit.

So, Elora must summon Sylvio and the other Overlords to help her restore her body.

As she observed the Emerald Lotus Sword in her hand, Elora showed a look of sadness.

The Emerald Lotus Sword was a good friend and comrade-in -arms that accompanied her for multiple epochs. Eventually, it gained intelligence.

However, after what happened this time, it went back to its original state.

If she wanted to restore the sword, it would take a lot of time, and even then, it might not be restored.

"Old friend, thank you! Without you, I'm afraid I would have completely disappeared from this world, and Leila would be in crisis. Once they invaded Leila, the countless races living here will be wiped out. Don't worry! As long as we can survive this crisis, no matter how heavy of a price it will take, I will find a way to restore you,” Elora looked at the Emerald Lotus Sword and muttered to herself.

The Emerald Lotus Sword lay there quietly and did not react.

To save Elora and create a chance for its master, the sword broke the barrier between the real world and The Spirit Cage, and sent Elora’s soul into The Spirit Cage, using up almost all its power.

In the end, it used its remaining energy to seal the planet.

Its intelligence, born not long ago, then fell into a permanent deep sleep.

The current Emerald Lotus Sword no longer had any abilities and functions except for being a little tougher.

Compared with the previous Emerald Lotus Sword, this was countless times worse.

For Elora, the Emerald Lotus Sword was not a simple weapon, but a good friend and partner whom she could confide in.

Elora did not get a response from her old friend, so she put the Emerald Lotus Sword away.

Now was not the time to be sad.

The foreign enemies were still eyeing Leila covetously.

So she had to spread the news of the Robotias and Soul Devourers teaming up as soon as possible so that Sylvio and the gang, and the other major forces, could be prepared for the battle.

At the same time, she had to restore her body and wait for the day of the decisive battle with the enemy.

To be honest, Empress Elora had no idea whether Leila could survive in the end.

Empress Elora had absolute confidence in defeating the Robotias or the Soul Devourers if they were apart and not joined forces.
