I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2392-When he truly had a breakthrough and surprised Elora at a critical moment, she might fall in love with him.

Lufian was planning in his heart how to make Elora fall in love with him and agree to be his partner. He decided that the crisis in front of him was the best opportunity.

However, he had no idea that Elora already had another person in her heart, and she couldn't give up on that man.

While the two were still talking, a figure suddenly appeared not far away.

It was Sylvio who rushed over on receiving the news from Lufian.

"Sylvio!"

"Sylvio!"

Lufian and Elora called out respectfully at the same time.

Sylvio nodded and fixed his eyes on Elora.

"Did you self-detonate?" Sylvio brought up what happened to Elora in the first sentence.

He saw what happened to Elora at the battle scene but did not say anything.

"Yes! When fighting with the Robotias' Lv 6,1 was caught offguard by a Soul Devourer Overlord which caused my soul to be severely injured. In the end, I had no other choice so I self

-detonated to have a chance at life. I also asked the Emerald Lotus Sword to escape with a trace of my soul," explained Elora.

"Alright, it's almost similar to what I assumed. It seems that you must have had quite an adventure since your escaped soul can recover to 80% in such a short time.!"

“Sylvio, the Emerald Lotus Sword sent my soul into The Spirit Cage to recover. I went on a little adventure there which allowed me to recover so quickly,” Elora replied honestly.

In her opinion, David’s strength was not very strong. So, that was indeed an adventure and David was also her benefactor.

If she had not met David, she did not know whether she could survive until her memory was restored.

“Elora, when Valentin and Drogo arrive, tell us the details of the battle. Then, we can discuss how to deal with the Robotias and the Soul Devourers.”

“Yes, Sylvio!”

At this time, Lufian interjected, “Sylvio, let’s put aside the deal with the Robotias and the Soul Devourers. After all, we can’t settle that in a day or two. Before that, shouldn’t we help Elora restore her body? After all, a soul is too restricted, and it is not easy to recover after damage.”

For Lufian, Elora was all that mattered.

If he was asked to choose between Leila and Elora, he would definitely choose to escape to faraway places with Elora instead of choosing to live and die with Leila here.

“Restoring a body is a big deal, so I need to be prepared. We can’t be sloppy about this,” Sylvio shook his head and said.

“Sylvio, didn’t you teach us how to restore our bodies? I don’t think it’s too complicated! When Valentin and Drogo arrive, it should be easy enough with the strength of four Overlords, right?” Lufian wondered.

Sylvio had already taught everyone how to restore the body and it was not complicated.

“The restoration of the body of someone below Overlord Realm is indeed very simple for us, but it is much more complicated to restore the body of someone above

Overlord Realm. We need a special formation, otherwise, we will fail easily. Once we fail, it will cause great damage to Elora's soul and Elora can't stand that now," Sylvio patiently explained.

"I see! Then, Sylvio, arrange the formation as soon as possible, please. It's not convenient for Elora to leave with just her soul. If you need anything, just tell me, and as long as it's within my power, I will surely help."

"Don't worry, I will get it ready as soon as possible."

"Thank you, Sylvio!" Elora bowed to Sylvio.

"You're welcome. We, the five Leila rulers, are one unit. We will prosper and fall together. After restoring your body, we can stop the Robotias and the Soul Devourers more effectively."

The three did not have to wait long before Valentin and Drogo arrived.

An Overlord's speed was completely unconstrained by space.
