I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2397-Elora told Sylvio everything about David.

She could trust Sylvio, who was her master and friend.

If she could not even trust him, then there was no one she could trust in Leila.

Even if Sylvio did not mention this today, Elora would have sought him one day and told him about David to see if Sylvio had any solution.

After all, the only one who could suppress Lufian in Leila was Sylvio.

No one else was capable of that.

Sylvio listened carefully to Elora's introduction.

The doubts in his heart had not been resolved. Instead, they grew.

According to Elora, that guy named David was not very old, but he spent money lavishly. He could spend tens of trillions of L Dollars without even batting an eye.

Money was no longer important to Overlords.

Not just the Overlords, even the forces in Leila that had partial Overlords had inexhaustible money.

From this point of view, there was at least one powerful force behind David that gave him so much money for spending.

He was young, loaded, and had a very strong soul power.

There were not many people like that in Leila, but so as long as he investigated carefully, he would find them.

There was a high probability that David was the direct descendant of a major force.

What puzzled Sylvio the most was how Elora's soul could get huge benefits by following David. Its benefits were even greater than eating treasures as it could quickly restore her soul power.

This was difficult for Sylvio to understand.

This had never happened before in Leila's history.

Sylvio tentatively figured that David had an extraordinary physique.

Any soul in contact with him would reap the benefits.

After all, the universe was vast, and there were countless types of physiques. Therefore, it was not impossible to have a special physique that had never appeared before.

When he thought about this, Sylvio's eyes lit up.

From Elora's narration, he knew that the young man named David had a good personality.

He was kind to those around him

He was extremely good, especially to Elora.

He could spend 500 billion L Dollars to help a little girl whom he had never met before and without hesitation.

After that, he bought countless treasures for Elora to eat and restore her soul power but did not get anything in return.

This kind of person was either a fool, or he was genuinely very kind and had a global vision.

Was David an idiot?

Obviously not.

If that was the case, then he was the second type.

And that was what Sylvio was looking for.

A person with a strong soul power would be pretty talented.

After finding him, Sylvio could cultivate him well and make him another one of Leila's pillars.

Of course, seeing was believing.

As for the specific situation, Sylvio would have to meet David in person and get in touch with him to find out.

Regarding his character, Sylvio could not just listen to Elora's one-sided statement. Instead, he must have a deep understanding of David.

David must not have a dual personality like Lufian.

He was fine when everything was alright, but when he was triggered, he would be like a mad dog that would bite whoever he saw.

If what Elora said was true, Sylvio would not mind accepting

David as his only disciple and passing on all his abilities including Zwei Arithmetics as long as David was talented enough.

However, now was not the time.

He would decide after he dealt with the Robotias and the Soul Devourers.

These two races were very threatening to Star Kingdom.
