

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 2402

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2402-After Beanie finished speaking, she turned to enter the carriage.

Before she could, the other party added, "I meant you and your master. The rest can get back in line."

Beanie, about to get into the carriage, was stunned.

Turning around slowly, she stared at the two guards with a dark look on her face.

Everyone had a temper.

After being teased by the other party again and again, Beanie was also on the verge of anger at the moment.

Although David said to keep a low profile, he also said that they would not cause trouble but were not afraid of trouble.

These two guards were deliberately making things difficult for them.

No matter how many treasures Beanie gave them, they still refused to let them through.

"Oh? What's wrong? You look unconvinced! Do you know where this is? This is Amber City, one of the eight main cities of The Spirit Cage. This is not your bloody hometown. We're working for the mayor of Amber City," The guard looked at Beanie and said arrogantly.

Beanie hesitated when she heard him say that he was working for the mayor of Amber City.

Whether in the main or other cities, the mayor was normally controlled by the first few major forces, if not the number one force.

It was not a good thing for newcomers like them to offend someone like that.

Just when Beanie was conflicting with herself on the inside, David's voice rang in her head.

David only had a few words.

“Don’t be afraid! If something goes wrong, I’ll take care of it.”

That simple sentence doubled Beanie’s confidence.

Since her master had said that, why should she be afraid?

“Sirs, I think I’ve given you enough respect, but why do you have to keep forcing us like that? Isn’t it good to just harmoniously let us in?” Beanie asked calmly.

“Should I let you in just because you say so? You refused to follow the rules of Amber City now that you’re here. I’m kind enough to not kick you out. Stop spewing nonsense and get back in line!”

“Sure, we can get back in line. Give us back our treasures and we’ll leave immediately!” Beanie suddenly shouted.

“W-What treasures? Stop slandering us. We didn’t take anything!”

The two guards panicked.

They thought that they could control the people from small places, but they did not expect that the other party would dare to argue back.

Beanie had given them the treasures too quickly the first two times, so the guards thought they could bully her.

In the end, when they wanted more treasures, they realized that they had encountered a tough one.

Everyone was taking bribes, and their superiors would keep an eye closed.

However, this was against the rules after all so they could not allow it to surface.

Beanie suddenly raised her voice so that everyone around could hear clearly. She attracted the attention of many and made the guards panic.

“Really? You didn’t take anything? Do you dare to take out the three packages on your body and open them then?” Beanie sneered.

“So what if we have treasures on us? How can you prove that they’re yours? Do you dare to prove that they’re yours? Are you going to point to a random person and claim that the treasure on them belongs to you too?” The burly man asked.

“You’re just guards, so how can you have such high-level treasures? I’m afraid no one will believe you even if you say so. Sometimes, you can’t be too greedy and you have to know when to stop. If those things are not yours, they can never be yours,” Beanie sarcastically said.