I am A Quadrillionaire (Completed)

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2406-“Yes, Captain!”

More than ten law enforcement team members replied at the same time.

Then, they went over to arrest David and his team. They wanted to bring them into the city, lock them up, and then deal with them later.

Beanie, Thor, and the Nacht family elites all stood in front of David.

They did not care if the other party was the law enforcement team or not.

Anyone who wanted to touch their master would have to go through them.

Of course, they knew they were not the opponents of the Amber City law enforcement team. However, they still had to do what they needed to do.

“It seems like this is indeed your first time in Amber City since you don’t know how powerful we are. Do you think a few potatoes like you can stop the law enforcement team? How delusional!” The captain of the law enforcement team smirked coldly as he looked at Beanie and the others.

‘The show is starting.’

The onlookers back away subconsciously.

When the two sides were about to collide, David teleported in a blink of an eye and reappeared at the front of this team. Then, he whispered, "Get back!"

A storm escaped from his lips.

The law enforcement team felt their ears buzzing. Their brains were in a mess and their bodies felt light. Then, they were lifted into the air.

The captain of the law enforcement team at the back also felt terrifying energy rushing towards him. Before he could react, his body was in the air.

Not to mention the city guards.

How would they escape if the law enforcement team could not even resist this?

In a blink of an eye, anyone in front of David was in a complete mess.

The law enforcement team together with the city guards were more than a hundred in total. All were flying in the air, straight at the city walls of Amber City.

Thud! Thud! Thud!

"Pfft!"

The sounds of collision and vomiting blood could be heard repeatedly.

After a while, more than a hundred people fell to the ground after crashing into the wall. All of them were wailing in pain.

The onlookers all had their jaws on the floor.

'What happened?

'Was I seeing things or were my ears deceiving me?

'His words were so powerful!

'The law enforcement team and a hundred city guards were defeated just like that?

'Who is that?

'He looks so young but he's so terrifyingly powerful!

'No wonder he dares to insult the Amber City law enforcement team in public. It seems that he can do so.

'He's so young and has such powerful strength. I'm sure his background must be very strong too.

'The law enforcement team and the city guards are in trouble now.

'If he's really from the other main cities, this matter will end up with nothing definite.'

Since David was only targeting the law enforcement team and the city guards, the onlookers around him were not affected at all.

The captain of the law enforcement team stood up shakily. He was the strongest among them, so he was the least injured.

Yet, the trauma on his body was nothing compared to the trauma in his head.

He would never imagine that this young man was so strong that he had no way of resisting.

Furthermore, David only said two words.

"W-W-Who the hell are you?" The captain of the law enforcement team asked in a shaky voice.
