I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2427-Nova and Celeste. One was the head of the Iridescent Sect while the other was the elder of the Iridescent Sect.

Moreover, they were both the heads of the seven high priestesses of the Iridescent Sect.

Therefore, it could be said that they were role models for the women of Star Kingdom, and they had a great reputation.

They were also sought after by countless men.

Even Saint Nek wanted to take Celeste as his wife. This showed how attractive she was.

In Star Kingdom, the Saints could get whatever they wanted.

They could get power, money, and women without any effort.

However, Nek took a fancy to Celeste and ruined his life because of it.

If he had known this would happen, Nek would have stayed far away.

This also proves Celeste's charm indirectly.

The same applied to Nova as well. She was also very popular long before she became head of the Iridescent Sect.

After she became the head, everyone knew that she couldn't marry outside of the sect, so they gradually stopped paying attention to her.

Anyway, both of them were the dream women of countless men in Star Kingdom.

So, they could be called the goddesses among goddesses.

However, the issues they were discussing now would astonish others.

If outsiders heard them, their jaws would drop.

Two former high priestesses of the Iridescent Sect were discussing whether a man was good in bed.

Despite being unbelievable, it did happen.

“Elder Red, since you claim David is so good in bed and there are so many excellent and one-in-a-million women around him, how can he control himself? Can a man do that?”

Nova had a curious look on her face.

“According to my understanding and guess, it should be from the environment David grew up in,” Celeste thought about it and answered.

“Is the environment he grew up in so different?”

“The place David was born and grew up in is called Earth. It’s a very small living planet. According to the levels of civilization, it’s not even at level 1. However, the system there is quite unique. The rule is that men and women are equal and they are monogamous, which means a man can only marry one woman. If they have more than one, they will be punished severely.”

“Men and women are equal? Monogamous? Does such a place exist?”

“Of course! The universe is so big and there are so many different levels of civilization. We still haven’t discovered a lot of living planets yet, so it’s not strange that Earth has its own system,” Celeste said, looking calm.

“I guess so! The lower the civilization and the more remote the place, the weirder the system.” Nova nodded to indicate she understood.

Men and women were equal, and they were monogamous. This was the first time she heard such a rule.

Before David came here, there was a woman among the six Sacred Saints of Star Kingdom. The others were all men.

A woman’s average talent would never be as high as a man’s, so how could they be equal?

If they wanted to reach equality, it had to be based on the premise that they were both the same, right?

Clearly, it would be impossible for equality to happen in Star Kingdom.
