

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 2429

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2429-“C-Celeste, w-what are you saying? How old am I? How old is David? How is this possible? Stop teasing me.”

After Nova said that, she glared at Celeste.

“Nova, honey, why do you still care about this? As long as you’re an Eternal, you can live for at least an epoch! When you’re a Saint, you will have a limitless lifespan. So what if you’re thousands of years apart? Aren’t I more than a thousand years older than David?” Celeste said.

“No way! No way! This is too much! Nothing will happen between me and David,” Nova waved her hands and said.

“Be honest with me then, do you feel anything toward David?”

“What do you mean?”

“You have to answer me first. Tell me the truth. Don’t lie.”

“Alright, I’ll tell you.”

“You feel happy when you see David and feel sad when he leaves. Normally, he will appear in your mind unconsciously, and sometimes, he’ll even appear in your dreams. Am I right? Tell me!”

After Celeste said that, she took a step forward and stared at Nova carefully.

“I... I... I...” Nova stammered for a while and could not form a complete sentence.

It was because Celeste was right.

Whenever David appeared in front of her, she would be thrilled. Even if she was feeling down, her spirits would also be lifted.

When David left, she would feel depressed again.

David would also frequently appear in her mind. This even happened in her dreams.

Celeste got almost all of it right.

Celeste smiled understandingly when she saw Nova stammering and unable to form a complete sentence.

“I knew it! A man like David is like a huge black hole. Any woman who approaches him will be sucked in. After getting along with him, no man will pique her interest anymore.

Nova, you should be true to your heart. Once you miss this chance, it will be too late for you to feel remorseful.”

Nova gritted her teeth and furrowed her brows tightly. She was having an intense fight with herself in her heart.

At the same time, two voices rang in her head.

“Nova, I support you. Leave everything behind and be crazy once.”

“No! Nova, you can't do that. You're the head of the Iridescent Sect so you have to be responsible for the sect. Moreover, your family needs you. Also, you're so much older than David. How can you fight with the little girls?”

“Don't be scared! You've given so much to the sect and your family. You should work hard for yourself now.”

“No! You will be made fun of!”

“Which is more important? The jokes or your happiness?”

The two voices, one for and one against, could not convince one another. Therefore, Nova could not decide as well.

Celeste did not urge her but waited silently.

After long contemplation, Nova said, “What will happen to the Iridescent Sect if I leave?”

“You’re still thinking of the sect at this juncture? You can just find someone to look after it! Just tell them you want to be in seclusion to break through partial Saint Realm. Who will know you’ve left Star Kingdom?”

“But...”

“No buts! To put it bluntly, the current Iridescent Sect will not change even if you’re not here. Everyone knows that this has become the sacred place of Star Kingdom. Who will dare to cause trouble here? Just find a more mature senior to look after the sect. Then, everything will be settled.”

“I... I... Why don’t... I will think about it again,” Nova said incoherently.

“Why do you still need to think about this? You have to be crazy once in your lifetime so that you won’t regret it when you think about this again in the future. Back then, I always listened to Master but what happened? I was still banished into the ice cavern for a hundred years. Thinking about it now, it was not worthwhile at all!”

The Central Sacred Continent.

David found Alba.

Initially, Alba was ecstatic that David was here.

However, after finding out why he was here, she stopped feeling happy.

It was because David said he wanted to take the cultivation resources he asked from her last time. He was about to leave Star Kingdom for some time and did not know when he would come back.

‘David is leaving Star Kingdom!’

Alba’s heart sank immediately. However, she still handed what David needed.
i

After placing everything into the Space Stone, David and Alba started chatting.