

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 2455

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2455-There was a reason David suspected the person who looted the eight main cities to be the mysterious person he met along the way.

After all, the person who could make the eight main cities' forces obey them completely, give up their treasures willingly, and yet not talk about them must be very powerful.

Moreover, that mysterious person was the only person David felt he could not defeat since he came to The Spirit Cage thus far.

With Amber City Mayor Salem's limited strength, the mayor was not even worthy of kissing that person's feet.

Since he could not guess who that mysterious person was, David decided not to think about it.

No matter what, this incident was beneficial to him. With the increase in the treasure's prices, it would be easier for him to spend money. So, he would naturally get more lavish points.

He changed the subject.

"Rivers, it's fine. Even if you don't have any results now, it doesn't mean you won't have them in the future. You're new here, so you should first expand your circle. Don't be in such a hurry. Just do things according to your pace. I trust you, and you should also tell me if you need anything. I came out this time to solve your problems for you."

"Master David, to be honest, we haven't met any obstructions all this time you're in seclusion. It's all thanks to Captain Longer. He put out the news, so basically no one dared to trouble us," Thor answered.

"That's good." David nodded.

He expected this.

Since Arian wanted to flatter him, and he was in seclusion, Arian would surely start from another angle.

Beanie and Thor were the best targets.

As long as he made things convenient for the two, David would remember Arian's grace, no matter what.

As the captain of the Amber City law enforcement team, he could solve their problems with just one word.

David could not do that without exposing his strength.

After all, he just arrived in Amber City.

Even though he was powerful, no one knew him except for Mayor Salem and Arian.

"Right, Master David. While you're in seclusion, Captain Longer came to you a few times. However, he would return without results everytime," Beanie interrupted.

"Okay, I got it. After this, I'll find some time to visit Arian and then later go back to continue living in seclusion. I will hand everything in Amber City to you in the future. You can discuss among yourselves if you can't make a decision. If you run into any problems, go to Arian. I will inform him, and if he can't even handle it, just wait for me to come back out."

"As for the major incident that happened in the eight main cities, stop inquiring about it. Since the major forces in the cities are so intimidated by that and dare not to speak about it, it must be someone they cannot afford to offend. If not, those guys would not suffer such losses and swallow their grievances. Not a lot of people would do that."

"Don't worry, Master David. We understand."

Beanie and Thor looked at each other.

After David's analysis, they already had some guesses in their hearts.

The only people with such strong power in Leila were probably the five Leila rulers.

The rest, no matter as an individual or a force, would never be able to make so many major forces in the eight main cities obey.

No wonder no one dared to even name the person.

Moreover, no one dared to give Thor any information even when he offered them money.

It seemed related to those five Overlords.

This was understandable.

Thor and Beanie knew, but David had no idea.

He had a limited understanding of Leila. It was mainly because he did not spend too much time understanding it.

Otherwise, he would know that there were only five Overlords in Leila, and he was the sixth.

Then, he would understand his advantage and know where he fitted in.

“Alright, if there’s nothing else, you should go on with your business. I’ll go to visit Arian,” David ordered.

“Yes, Master David.” Beanie and Thor left the living room.

Shortly after, David’s figure disappeared as well.

In the center of Amber City not far away from the mayor’s residence was a huge manor.

Even though it could not compare to the mayor’s residence, it was still pretty luxurious.