

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 2463

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2463-In reality, Grant and Fred were not wrong.

Lorraine had already neglected them both.

However, this did not happen after she left. She had already looked down on those two before that.

Back when she was in The Krums, Lorraine even considered who she should choose after the ten-year appointment between Stan and Clinton.

Should she choose Grant or Fred?

The two were almost the same in almost all aspects.

One of them had the support of the head of The Krums, while the other had the support of the senior elder of The Krums.

They had almost the same strength and were also extremely good to her.

They would fulfill almost all of her requests.

So, Lorraine was in a dilemma for a very long time over this.

Then, matters developed beyond her expectations.

The initial ten-year appointment was the grand event of the chosen ones in Somerland. Anyone who won would not only get Lorraine, the peerless woman, but they would also be immensely blessed.

In the end, David won unintentionally, but he rejected the marriage to Lorraine.

In that setting, Lorraine observed the chosen ones from diverse backgrounds and came to realize that Grant and Fred were rather average.

Moreover, she was occupied with making that damned man David feel remorse, so how would she still pay attention to Grant and Fred?

After her trip to Star Kingdom, Lorraine had become a Saint so how would the two be worthy of her now?

The only person worthy of Lorraine was David.

If David was not interested in her, she would just stay single for life.

“Master Ted, you should believe me now, right? As long as you let me handle the matter with Mt. Surr, I promise I will make their head come over and apologize. From now on, they will never dare to cross The Krums again,” Lorraine said seriously.

“Lori, of course, I believe you since you have the help of your senior and head of the sect. Since you’ve said that, I shall hand the matter with Mt. Surr to you. Coincidentally, Mt. Surr is calling all sects to have a meeting in a month, so we’ll go together when the time comes,” Ted agreed.

Now, he was desperately hoping that Lorraine could help.

If they had these two powerhouses from beyond Star Realm on their side, Mt. Surr would be nothing.

Ace was powerful, but only when his opponents were at the same level.

If there was a very huge gap, it would not matter if Ace was there.

He would only be tortured.

What is Mt. Surr when faced with big shots from beyond Star Realm?

Ted could already imagine Mt. Surr’s head kneeling in front of him, begging for mercy.

“Master Ted, won’t a month be too long? Why don’t I go get Mt. Surr’s head right now? Won’t it be better to solve this earlier? Why wait a month?” Lorraine frowned. She complained that one month was too long.

“Lori, let’s wait. One month later, all of the sects will head to Mt. Surr and when the time comes, we can show everyone our prestige and intimidate them if we defeat Mt. Surr in front of everyone. From then on, The Krums’ position will become stronger,” Ted explained.

While defeating Mt. Surr, they could even intimidate the other sects, so why not?

“Alright, I’ll meet you on Mt. Surr one month later.” Lorraine stopped quibbling about this.

Since she was here to repay The Krums’ kindness, she would just do as Ted said.

“Lori, are you leaving?” Ted asked.

“I’ll travel around with Senior and Master. I’ll go straight to Mt. Surr a month later.”

“Well... Okay,” Ted hesitated before agreeing.

He had no choice but to agree.

Lorraine was no longer the little girl who joined The Krums long ago.