

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 2470

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2470-Stark was waiting for this crucial moment.

If he succeeded, he would be killing four birds with one stone.

At the same time, the shadow shot at the planet where Elora was.

However, it was stopped halfway by Sylvio who rushed over.

Needless to say, the collision between two super-strong Overlords was very spectacular.

Stark did not hesitate before attacking Sylvio directly.

As the Soul Devourers' old opponent, one could say that Sylvio knew the Soul Devourers best.

The moment Stark attacked, he had already prepared.

The first attack of the two Overlords did not make any noise before it disappeared. It was as if there was no power in it.

However, was that the case?

It was no exaggeration to say that Stark's attack would heavily injure Valentin or Drogo if they were the ones blocking it.

Even Lufian would suffer greatly since he did not understand the Soul Devourers' strange methods.

After Sylvio blocked Stark's attack, his body suddenly appeared before Stark and his soul power skyrocketed to the extreme before it shot directly at Stark.

If he wanted to defeat the Soul Devourers, the best way was to attack them with soul power.

However, this was dangerous too.

One had to know that Soul Devourers would swallow a human's soul.

Wouldn't this be making things easy for the Soul Devourers?

Sylvio crashed into the shadow with a shocking force.

Boom!

The collision caused a huge bang.

At the same time, the shadow kept backing away.

In a blink of an eye, it left the planet where Elora was.

Once he was far away, it would not be so easy for Stark to interrupt and ruin Elora's restoration.

Plus, Sylvio was stopping him in the middle.

As long as he bought some more time, Lufian and the others might be able to give him an extra hand.

When the time came, even Stark would suffer some serious injuries.

When Lufian saw Sylvio leaving with the shadow, he let out a sigh of relief internally. Then, he put all of his focus on the movement of the array.

On the planet, more than half of Elora's body had been restored.

Only the part above her chest was still not done.

As time passed slowly, her chest was also done and now, the most important part, the head, was still restoring.

If a man saw this scene, they would not be able to avert their eyes. They might not even want to blink.

Elora's restored body was naked. Her perfectly ratioed body could be regarded as perfect. Enough to give normal men nosebleeds.

If a woman saw her, they would also feel ashamed or inferior.

Elora felt indifferent about her body being exposed.

She was in the deepest part of the array so no one could see her.

Moreover, Elora was not paying attention to this. All of her focus and attention were on restoring her body.

Her head, the most important part, was not completed.

She had the most nerves on her head and it also had the most complicated structure. Therefore, it would need more time compared to other body parts.

While Elora's head was about to be fully restored, Stark, in the void, showed a sinister smile on the corner of his lips.
