

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 2479

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2479-The little girl finally remembered that her name was Pebbles, and the person she was looking for was her big brother.

However, Pebbles started to worry again.

'Where should I go to find him?

'It's been so long and I still don't see any traces of him.

'And I can't steal food. I promised him so I must abide by it.'

Pebbles crouched alone in the dark corner of the wall. Her beautiful big eyes were filled with tears that dropped one by one.

"Big brother, where are you? Pebbles misses you so much, come pick Pebbles up!" The little girl murmured.

It was a pity that David was still on Earth now, so he did not know that Pebbles was looking for him in Amber City.

Since Pebbles left the letter and went away, David took Beanie and Thor to Amber City, handed over everything to them, and rarely returned to The Spirit Cage.

At the most, he would only go back to take a look once in a while to ask Beanie and Thor if there were any problems they could not solve.

If there was, he would help to solve it and not return to the real world immediately.

David's focus was no longer on The Spirit Cage.

However, he still needed to earn lavish points here, so he would come to visit occasionally.

Otherwise, he might not even come back.

Three months later.

The little girl Pebbles had been wandering in Amber City for a few months and her whole body had become dirty. She did not look as delicate as she did when she first came to Amber City. Instead, she looked like a little beggar.

In the beginning, there were still psychopaths with bad intentions who wanted to take her back to satisfy their perverted needs.

As Pebbles got dirtier, the numbers dwindled.

Now, almost everyone would look at her with disgust in their eyes. They wished to stay away from her, never mind trying to catch her.

In those three months, Pebbles followed David's teachings and did not steal anything.

She knew that if she stole, her big brother would never like her again.

Pebbles did not get any treasure to eat, so she hardly grew and still looked like a four or five-year-old.

If she followed David, Pebbles would have grown up by at least a year or two after being nourished by David's special soul power and having treasures to consume.

During this period, David actually visited The Spirit Cage twice.

He came and went in a hurry and did not wander around in Amber City at all, so naturally, he did not find the poor little Pebbles.

Every day Pebbles wandered every corner of Amber City, looking for the big brother in her memory.

During these three months, the little girl had almost traveled all over Amber City.

Yet, she got nothing.

However, she was not discouraged.

Pebbles knew that as long as she did not give up, she would be able to find her big brother and live a happy life.

There would be countless delicious food waiting for her every day and she could eat whatever she wanted.

Not only that, but she could also sleep soundly in big brother's arms.

Among the few memories the little girl had, sleeping in big brother's arms was the best.

After walking all over Amber City, Pebbles found many places and many things she liked to eat.

She would go to different places just to smell them every day.

Although big brother told her she could not steal, it would be fine to smell them.

She did not take anything, so it did not count as a violation of her agreement with big brother.