I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2512-“May I know your name?”

“I’m David Lidell.” David’s answer was very simple and clear. He did not add anything extra.

“Where are you from and why are you here in Amber City?”

“Although you are the deputy mayor, this is a personal question, so I don’t think I need to answer you, right?”

David seemed to be asking, but he was telling the other party that he did not want to answer his question.

“Since you don’t want to tell me, then I won’t force you. I’ll just get straight to the point. You killed Perry, the direct descendant of my family, and Miss Fabiola of the Marche family, right?” Egan did not beat around the bush and asked directly.

“If you’re talking about the kid who came to Jumbo Court to make trouble and the disgusting woman who looks like a ball, then yes, I killed them.” David nodded.

“Aren’t you going to give me an explanation as to why you killed the direct descendant of my family?”

“What is there to explain? You are the deputy mayor so you must have understood the ins and outs of this matter clearly. Do you really need me to repeat it?” David was unmoved.

Egan was dumbfounded.

He looked at David and did not find any trace of tension in this young man

The other party was not pretending, but he genuinely did not take the murder to heart.

This kid did not look very old, so what kind of force could cultivate such a person?

The Campbell family and the Marche family were not the top among Leila's dozens of top forces, but they were not the worst either.

Even if the forces were too far away or not familiar with each other, it would be impossible for them to have never heard of each other.

If David came from any of these forces, it was impossible for him to not know the Campbell family and the Marche family.

Yet, when he faced the direct descendants of the Campbell family and the Marche family, he killed them without hesitation and did not even spare them the slightest.

Even as Egan racked his brain, he could not figure out where the problem was.

Unless David was not from these top forces.

Then how would he explain the powerhouse that was hiding beside him?

Since Egan could not even find where they were, it would mean that they were not ordinary.

When Egan was wondering how he should solve this, a voice sounded from the door.

"It looks pretty lively here. I didn't interrupt anything, did I?"

Everyone looked over to the source of the voice and saw an old man walking in with a smile on his face.

It was Salem, the person in charge of the Birch family, one of the three major families in Amber City. At the same time, he was also the mayor.

"Arian greets you, Mayor!" Arian said respectfully.

That was his superior.

"Welcome, Mayor Salem," David also said politely.

"David, I didn't interrupt anything, right?" Salem looked at David and grinned.

As the mayor of Amber City, Salem naturally got wind of this major event in his city.

At first, he was still in disbelief.

He wondered, 'Perry, the direct descendant of the Campbell family, and Miss Fabiola of the Marche family died together in Amber City?

'This is such huge news!

'The Campbell family is fine, but this even involves Miss Fabiola of the Marche family.

'Who has the guts to offend those two major families at the same time?'

After knowing that David was the murderer, Salem was relieved.

He knew this young man was not simple.

If not, he would not have asked Arian to apologize to David back then.

Now it appeared that he had been right all along.
