I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2518-Once his Mind and Body both came to Supreme level 10, David's combat power would reach the scary partial Heavenly Overlord Rank.

It would be more than enough to help Pebbles solve her problem with this combat power.

David turned off the system.

As he looked at Pebbles who was deep in her slumber, he smiled dotingly.

The little girl had grown up a lot since she was always by his side these few days.

Now that they met again, she seemed to eat and sleep more.

Then, David heard some rustling in his ears.

It was so soft that ordinary people would not be able to hear it.

David could only hear it based on his strong perception.

He knew this came from the people outside.

When David came back from Jumbo Court three days ago, he noticed a lot of unknown people around his residence.

They had almost surrounded the entire manor.

He did not need to think to know that those people were hired by the Campbell family to monitor him.

They were worried that David would flee and, when the time came, they would not be able to find him.

David ignored this.

In the past three days, he was basking in the joy of his lavish points skyrocketing.

Since he was in a state of joy, he was not bothered by those people.

In three days, one-tenth of the people in Amber City had gone.

At the same time, more and more people were leaving continuously.

The entire city seemed to fall into a semi-paralyzed state.

A sense of panic was spreading as well.

Arian was not idle. He was maintaining the order of Amber City this entire time with the law enforcement team. It had been three days since he rested.

Level 9 civilization Leila.

The Campbell family, one of the major families, had gathered enough people. When the Marche family's powerhouses arrived, they would enter The Spirit Cage together to demand an explanation from David.

The Marche family's jurisdiction was not the same as the Campbell family's, and they were in another main city in The Spirit Cage too.

So, if the Marche family wanted to go to Amber City, there were two options.

One, they could enter The Spirit Cage from the Marche residence and land in their family's main city. Then, they could head to Amber City inside The Spirit Cage.

Of course, this was very time and energy-consuming.

Only souls could enter The Spirit Cage. They could not tear apart the space inside so they could only travel using their own speed.

The main city where the Marche family was located was very far from Amber City.

Even if they dispatched all of the powerhouses, it would take a very long time.

Another way was to send people to the Campbell family and use the Campbell family's equipment to enter The Spirit Cage. That way, they would arrive directly at Amber City's descending point.

Fabiola and her guards entered The Spirit Cage in this way. Then, she appeared in Amber City to find Perry.

One could tear apart space in the real world and if they were strong enough, they could travel in the highest twelvedimensional space. Their speed would be very fast.

It would be much faster than entering The Spirit Cage and then traveling to Amber City.

The Marche family chose the second option.

The Campbell family received the news in advance. They knew the powerhouses from the Marche family were on their way and would be here soon.

They were waiting.

The reason they did not enter The Spirit Cage in advance was because of Egan's suggestion.

After some discussion with the Campbell family's seniors about David's various attributes and how Egan was unable to detect the mysterious powerhouse beside David, they decided to let the Marche family take the lead. The Campbell family decided to not be the one to stand out.

If they got into trouble, the Marche family would be the ones having to deal with it. Then, the Campbell family could have more options.

Perry was not valued anyway so the Campbell family did not have to waste so much effort on him.

If they were not disrespected, they did not even want to form grudges with David the mysterious young man.
