I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2523-An hour later, David appeared in a closed secret room inside Amber City's mayor's residence.

To anyone from coming in and realizing he was gone, David did something to the door.

The little girl Pebbles was sitting outside to watch the door for David. Her little hands were supporting her head.

Salem was next to her. When he saw the cute little girl who looked like a porcelain doll, he asked, "Little girl, what's your name?"

"Grandpa, my name is Pebbles!" The little girl answered.

Before he went into seclusion, David told her to listen to this old man.

"Pebbles? What a cute name! Is David your brother?"

'Yes.'

The little girl tilted her head and thought about it.

'Yes... and no.'

'Yes and no? What do you mean?' Salem was confused.

"He's my brother now, but he won't be when I grow up."

"Why?" Salem asked curiously.

"Grandpa, you're so stupid! It's because I'll marry him when I grow up. So, he won't be my brother then," the little girl said with a grin.

The little girl was in a good mood when she talked about her marriage to David.

After following David for this past period, she regained some of her memories.

They were all about David.

She remembered promising David that she would marry him when she grew up.

Salem was shocked when he heard that.

How would a little girl at the age of seven or eight know about marriage?

'Little kids nowadays become mature so quickly.

He initially thought the little girl was David's biological sister!

Now, it seemed that she was not.

Of course, this was not absolute.

After all, what would a little girl at the age of seven or eight know?

She might have heard that husband and wife could stay together forever when she was always by her brother's side, so that was why she made it so widely known that she would marry her brother.

"Pebbles, where are your parents?" Salem asked again.

He wanted to see if he could get some information from his little girl.

He would start with her parents first. Then he would slip in questions about David.

"I don't know!" The little girl shook her head.

"Where are your other family members?"

"I don't know either! Grandpa, stop asking. I only remember Davey and I don't remember anything else," the little girl said with a pout.

Alright!

Salem knew that he would not be able to get information about David from the little girl.

So, he changed the topic.

The little girl was not fully attentive while answering Salem's questions. She seemed to not want to pay attention to this talkative old man. She was making Salem feel very awkward.

Inside the secret room, David carefully checked for any equipment that could be used to monitor him.

In the end, he did not find any.

Salem was pretty particular.

No matter what, Salem helped him. So if he had a chance in the future, David would repay this kindness.

After he opened the system, David's eyes landed on his lavish points.

[Lavish points: 2816253]

It had gone beyond the 2.8 million points needed for his breakthrough.

So, David chose to leave The Spirit Cage.

His soul vanished in a blink of an eye.

When he opened his eyes again, his consciousness had gone back to his body on Earth.

To save time, David did not go to meet Celia and the others.

He opened the system panel immediately and clicked on the plus sign behind Body.

A window popped up.

[This breakthrough will consume 1 million lavish points.

After this breakthrough, Body will go from Supreme level 10 to Ancient level 1. Host, please select if you want to proceed.]

There were two options below.

Yes and no.

Of course, David chose yes.
