

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 2539

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2539-“Yes! Master David, cough... I get it. Cough... Thank you, Master David, for not killing me,” Agatha replied respectfully while coughing.

She was severely injured, and she still had to say thank you to the other party. One could only imagine how aggrieved she felt.

However, what could she do?

Since she was not as powerful as David, she could only admit defeat.

“Old hag, I know you are not convinced. If you still want to take revenge, you can come to me at any time, but I will not hold back the next time you come. Think carefully before you come.”

“Master David, please don’t misunderstand me. I don’t have such plans. I am very grateful that you spared me today, Master David. So how would I want to take revenge?”

Agatha hastily denied it.

She had no intention of seeking revenge on David.

A person who could be bestowed with treasure by an Overlord must have an unusual relationship with them. How could the Marche family afford to provoke such a person?

She would be grateful if David did not cause trouble for the Marche family.

Revenge?

It would be equivalent to courting death.

Although a partial Overlord was already very strong, they could never stand over Leila as long as they did not become a real Overlord.

When meeting someone who was related to Lord Overlord, one could only pretend to be helpless and miserable.

“That’s good! Take your people with you and get lost! Don’t appear in front of me again, or I’m afraid I won’t be able to stop myself from killing you.”

“Yes, Master David!”

Agatha stood up tremblingly.

The powerhouses from the Marche family hurried forward to support her.

With David’s consent, they finally dared to come forward.

Just when the Marche family was helping Agatha to leave, David suddenly shouted, “Wait!”

“Is there anything I can help you with?” Agatha asked cautiously.

“I don’t want anyone to spread what happened today. You’d better keep this to yourself. Otherwise, once I find out, don’t blame me for being merciless.”

“Understood! Don’t worry, Master David, our family will never spread the word.”

Agatha left with a team of thousands of people.

The Campbell family also wanted to leave.

However, they did not dare to since David did not say anything.

Without a better choice, Egan walked out bravely, knelt before David, kowtowed, and begged for mercy loudly, “M- Master David, I was wrong! Please, Master David, please spare the Campbell family. The Campbell family will be very grateful.”

David glanced at Egan.

“It’s useless to kowtow to me. If you can get Mayor Salem and Arian’s forgiveness, you can survive, otherwise...”

Egan shivered and quickly looked at Salem and Arian.

“Mayor Salem, Captain Longer, I was wrong just now. I shouldn’t have listened to the Marche family and attacked you. Please forgive me for my mistake this time.”

To survive, Egan could not care less about his prestige.

Compared with death, his prestige was nothing.

Even Agatha from the Marche family, whose strength had reached partial Overlord Realm, admitted defeat. Who was he to not do the same?

If he was killed, his death would be in vain.

The Campbell family would not bet on the life and death of the entire family to avenge him.

What was the point if they avenged him but lost their lives?

David handed Egan over to Salem and Arian.

It was up to them how much benefit they could reap from Egan.

It could also be regarded as some compensation for the two of them.

After all, they should not get injured for nothing.

David was concerned that his lavish points wouldn't skyrocket like before after this incident.

Many people in Amber City saw there was not much disturbance from the joint attack of the Campbell family and the Marche family, so they figured it was probably settled peacefully.

However, it was fine.

As long as the news did not get out, someone might continue to sell their properties to leave The Spirit Cage to get through this dangerous period.

It would not be too late to come back when it was safe again.

Anyway, they would not lose out too much if they could sell for a high price.

David only hoped that he could accumulate one million lavish points as soon as possible so he could raise his Cloning to level 6.

He would not ask for anything else.

If he could not breakthrough in a short time, he could only increase his strength in other ways.

Cloning was undoubtedly the best choice.