

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 2555

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2555-In fact, Valentin did not want to complain about Sylvio.

After all, he knew Sylvio's identity and strength.

Besides, Sylvio was their guide.

Although the two sides did not call each other master and disciple, they already regarded Sylvio as their master in their hearts.

Everyone respected Sylvio very much.

However, they were still very shocked when they heard what Sylvio said just now.

Who could stop the rampage of Heavenly Overlord Lufian?

Wouldn't they be doomed?

There would be no safe place in the whole of Leila.

What else could they do apart from fleeing?

Overlords like them could escape. The Deities also had a chance to escape, but what about other ordinary people?

They could only wait for death.

Once they ran into Lufian, they would have no possibility of survival.

After Lufian went berserk that year, countless creatures became extinct.

It was simply unbearable.

Valentin still had a deep memory of that scene. He was in a state of confusion for a while before he suggested their next move.

It was true that both of them suggested to Sylvio to get rid of Lufian.

The other party refused to listen and this caused the current consequences.

So, they would be lying if they said they did not have any concerns in their hearts.

“Sylvio, what should we do now?” Drogo asked worriedly.

He knew very well what would happen if a Heavenly Overlord goes berserk.

Everyone could attempt to fight the Robotias and the Soul Devourers teaming up to invade Leila. It was just uncertain as to who would win the battle.

Leila might have a chance to win.

Not just a chance, but a high chance.

However, if Heavenly Overlord Lufian went berserk, they would have no possibility of winning at all.

No wonder Sylvio said it was more serious than the Robotias teaming up with the Soul Devourers.

“The only one who can appeal to Lufian’s reason now is Elora. If she can stay by Lufian’s side and watch over him all the time, Lufian will have a smaller chance of going berserk.”

As soon as Sylvio said this, Valentin’s and Drogo’s eyes showed surprise at the same time.

They seemed to have grasped a life-saving straw and saw hope for life.

That was right!

Lufian cared so much about Elora that so as long as Elora was by his side, Lufian would always be able to keep his sanity.

‘That’s right! Sylvio, this is a good plan. Get Elora back quickly and let her keep an eye on Lufian. Although it’s not a long-term solution, we can’t consider so many things now. We can only use this method to buy time and then we’ll think of other ways,’ Valentin urged.

“I’ll go see Elora but she’s not in a good condition right now, so it’s hard to say if she will be willing to come back. I can’t forcefully bring her back, right?” Sylvio said with uncertainty.

“Just look at the situation we’re in now! Does she still want to wait for her chance encounter? If she doesn’t come back, Leila will be gone if Lufian goes berserk.” Valentin immediately increased his volume.

Was this a joke?

The lives and deaths of countless living creatures in Leila were at stake, so this was not a trivial matter.

And Elora might still not come back at this critical moment? ‘That’s right! Elora is the only one who can keep Lufian from going berserk. If she doesn’t come back to keep an eye on him, Leila may be destroyed at anytime,” Drogo also chimed in.

He and Valentin were on the same side on this matter. Elora had to come back.

“You don’t have to worry too much now. According to my inference, even if Lufian goes berserk, he won’t be as crazy as last time. His dual souls are fused, so even if he goes berserk, he will still have a trace of reason. Moreover, Lufian attributed Elora’s restoration failure to his lack of strength, so he should have gone to the Robotias and the Soul Devourers by now to avenge Elora,” Sylvio explained.