I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2656-He had no idea that the places David was telling him about could not be found anywhere on this planet.

David was talking about other civilizations in the Universe.

David patiently answered each of the numerous questions posed by Zion.

After all, the reason he was here was to find someone to chat with and while away his boredom.

He was almost going crazy from not being able to speak to anyone for more than half a year.

The question and answer session between them passed quickly, and it was soon evening.

Under Captain Himmel's lead, the team stopped and began setting up camp.

The maids in the other two carriages came out to make dinner. Their responsibility was to take care of their masters' daily lives.

David and Zion had a lot of fun with their questions and answers. They had so much to talk about.

Even beautiful Leticia was enjoying the session. She would interrupt once in a while, but most of the time was left to David and Zion.

It was not long before they heard Captain Himmel's voice from outside the carriage.

Madam, Young Master, dinner is ready. Would you like to have it outside or do you want us to bring it in?"

'You can bring it in! We'll be having our meal in the carriage,' Leticia answered.

'Yes, Madam!!!'

Captain Himmel replied and left to make preparations.

The Madam's voice rang out again.

"Prepare dinner for three. Master David will be dining with us."

'Yes, Madam!!!'

The maids soon brought a sumptuous dinner into the carriage.

"Please help yourself, Master David!" Leticia said.

"Enjoy the dinner. Madam!" David replied politely.

With David's current abilities, he no longer required food.

He could stop eating for ten thousand years and he would not die of hunger.

However, he had to hide his identity, and that meant he could not reveal anything too out of the ordinary.

Leticia got the maid over to clean up after they were done with dinner.

Zion could not wait to continue their conversation.

David stayed in the carriage alone that night to rest, while Leticia and Zion got out of the carriage to stay in the tent that was specially set up for them.

The next day, David and Zion spent the entire day talking about interesting things that happened around the world.

By the third day, David felt that it was almost time. He had obtained what he had come for and had been chatting continuously for two days. He was finished with all the talking he had missed out on for the past six months.

He felt it was time to leave.

There were still matters waiting for him to handle in Leila.

The hidden threat of Emperor Lufian was also still around.

As the only person able to stop him, David had to rush to Leila.

If Emperor Lufian lost control, David would still be able to stop him if he arrived on time to prevent massive damage.

So, David said his goodbyes to Leticia and Zion.

“Madam Chandler, Zion, thank you for bringing me along the way. It is time to part and I should be going.”

‘You’re leaving, Master David?’

“Are you going, Dave?”

Leticia and Zion asked in astonishment at almost the same time.

‘Yes! I have something to attend to, which is why I have to leave,’ David nodded and replied.

“Can’t you stay, Dave? Just accompany me for a few more days! I’ll be so bored after you leave!” Zion began to beg him with a sad face.

After spending the past three days with him, Zion found himself liking this big brother a lot and did not want him to leave!
