

Read I am a quadrillionaire

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2657-“Zion, I’d like to accompany you longer too, but there’s a lot waiting for me to do. I can’t help but leave. Listen to your mother and don’t be so stubborn, alright, Zion? You’re a really smart kid. You’ll definitely do great things in the future,” David consoled him.

David thought they were mother and son after spending the last two to three days with them.

Only mother and son could have such a close relationship.

When there was an outsider, Zion would not refer to her as Aunt Leticia for fear that people would find out the truth.

‘TH be so bored once you’re gone, Dave!” Zion was reluctant for him to go.

“Don’t you have your mother with you? How would you be bored? Besides, you’ve endured this on your own for so long, you can’t be unable to go back to your normal routine just because I showed up. I’ll be leaving soon, after all.”

David finally convinced the little guy.

He was done saying goodbye and was about to leave.

Leticia suddenly knelt before David, accompanied by Zion.

This sight caught David by surprise.

“What are you doing, Madam Chandler?” David asked in confusion.

“Master David! First, I’d like to represent Zion and the guards out there to thank you for saving us. If it wasn’t for you, we would have died at the hands of the enemy. Second, as there might still be enemies waiting to ambush us along the way, I’d like to ask for your help in escorting us to the Imperial Capital of the Great Quinn Empire. If you’re willing to help us, I’ll promise you anything you ask for,” Leticia said seriously.

She had suspected for a while that David was the person who had saved them at that crucial moment.

After all, it would take some abilities for a young man to roam about a barren land filled with robbers.

That was why she had invited him to sit in their carriage.

After that, they began talking more.

Their conversation made Leticia even more certain about her assumptions

David had talked about places that did not belong anywhere in the Great Quinn Empire.

That meant that David had either made up those stories or he had been somewhere outside of the Great Quinn Empire.

He could not have made up stories because they sounded like he had experienced them personally.

The fact that David could visit so many strange and unique places on his own convinced Leticia even more that David was the person who had saved them.

As for how David managed to accomplish that and make everyone forget what happened during that time, Leticia had no idea.

This could be what people meant when they said legendary powerhouses had their ways!

Of course, even then, Leticia was not completely sure of David's identity.

Since he was not willing to share his secret, Leticia would not reveal any of her suspicions.

Leticia would keep this thought to herself forever if David followed them to the Imperial Capital.

However, David was about to leave.

Leticia could no longer pretend and had to do something.

There was still a long way to go before they reached the Imperial Capital.

No one knew what sort of danger lay ahead of them or whether it would be even more dangerous than the last time.

Without David's help, it would be difficult to tell if they could reach the Imperial Capital at all.

That was why Leticia mustered up her courage and revealed the guesses in her mind.

She wanted everything voiced out in the open and to keep David with them.

As long as he was willing to stay with them, any danger they face on this journey would no longer be a problem.

David looked at Leticia kneeling on the ground.

Her head was lowered as she did not dare to look up at him.

David wondered what he had done to reveal his identity to this woman.

He did not think he made any mistakes!

When he was controlling the power of the Law of Time, he had frozen time in this entire place.

When time was frozen, everyone's mind would cease thinking.

Even if he walked past them, no one would notice him.