

Read I am a quadrillionaire

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2694-The bloody giant ax carried unparalleled power as it struck at the disciples gathered on the Divine Snow Mountain.

Madam Nubia had put away her Eternal Golden Body and was standing with everyone.

If the Divine Snow Mountain was doomed, then she, the Grandmaster, would naturally follow everyone.

At the critical moment, Reva shouted.

“Found it!”

Then, without any hesitation, she immediately began to unseal the small wooden box.

The bloody giant ax landed on the head of the disciple of the Divine Snow Mountain and was about to hit the crowd.

Everyone closed their eyes unconsciously, waiting for death to come.

However, time passed by second by second.

Yet, death did not come. Even the suffocating momentum suddenly disappeared.

What happened?

The disciples of the Divine Snow Mountain opened their eyes one by one.

They saw that the bloody giant ax was still above their heads and was very close to them, but it could not land.

When they looked at the entire ax, they noticed that at some point, a strange young man had appeared in the crowd. He raised one hand above his head and caught the bloody ax that Diablo had struck to prevent it from falling.

Not only the people of the Divine Snow Mountain were stunned by this scene, but even the other six top forces and Diablo, who was holding the Divine Ax, were so shocked that they could not speak.

Who was this person?

How could he catch a blow from the Divine Ax with his bare hands?

How was this possible?

Diablo even wondered if he was seeing things.

There was no such character in Boundless Galaxy.

The entire top of the Divine Snow Mountain was silent.

Everyone was staring blankly at the small body.

Compared with Diablo who had cast his Eternal Golden Body and the bloody giant axe, that figure was simply pitiful.

However, this small figure blocked the shocking blow.

The huge blood-red ax could no longer be lowered and the disciples of the Divine Snow Mountain disciples who should have been completely wiped out were saved.

“Master David!”

“Master David!”

Reva and Lucia looked at the figure that suddenly appeared and shouted excitedly.

Their voices seemed so clear on the silent top of the Divine Snow Mountain.

The one who blocked the bloody giant ax was naturally David’s clone who was summoned by Reva after unsealing it.

Before leaving Boundless Galaxy, David gave Reva two wooden boxes with his clones sealed in them and he asked her to only unseal them in case of danger.

Reva never took it seriously.

She did not think that something made by David himself could be very powerful.

Now, she was only opening it because she was at a dead end and had no choice.

Reva and Lucia did not expect Master David to appear and even rescued them. So, how could the master and the disciple not be excited?

David turned to look at Reva and Lucia. He smiled and greeted them, "Miss Marwood, Miss Darling, long time no see!"

Although it was just a clone, it was still using David's separated soul so it still maintained a shared relationship with the main form.

In other words, David, who was still on the road at this time, also knew that someone had summoned his clone.

"Master David, thank you! Thank you for showing up and saving the Divine Snow Mountain. Thank you so much!" Reva choked up as she spoke.

She had felt completely desperate just now.

Sovereign Ranker Diablo also stole the treasure of the Divine Snow Mountain. He was so overwhelmingly powerful, so who could defeat him?

Yet, in the end, David, whom she had no hopes for, gave her a big surprise.