I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2696-Who was Diablo?

He was a Sovereign Ranker, the number one in Boundless Galaxy.

Even Madam Nubia, the Grandmaster of the Divine Snow Mountain, was not his enemy.

And now he was defeated just like this?

He was completely defeated and he did not even have the slightest strength to resist.

Everyone's eyes fell on David.

Who was this person?

He was actually strong enough to kill Diablo instantly.

Moreover, Diablo was also holding the Divine Ax.

How incredible.

Reva and Lucia also widened their eyes, feeling both shocked and surprised.

Master David was too powerful!

If his clone could instantly kill Sovereign Ranker Diablo, how powerful would his main form be?

It was true that they should not judge a book by its cover.

In the beginning, the master and disciple looked down upon David.

They figured that a young guy, even if he was from a level 7 civilization, would not be that strong.

Now, they got a hard slap across the face.

The master and disciple looked at each other and could feel the bitterness in each other's hearts.

They felt so remorseful!

If they had known this earlier, they would have established a good relationship with Master David.

If the other party could give them a few more wooden boxes, wouldn't they be able to do anything they wanted in the Boundless Galaxy?

No!

They could already do anything they wanted in the Boundless Galaxy.

Everyone had seen the strength of Master David's clone. So, as long as they used the remaining wooden box that sealed Master David's clone, they could definitely deter all forces in the Boundless Galaxy.

Grandmaster Nubia of the Divine Snow Mountain also looked at David in disbelief.

She knew how strong a Sovereign Ranker was.

Coupled with the Divine Ax in hand, Diablo could challenge someone much stronger than him.

As a result, he was instantly killed by a young man's clone.

So, this meant that the young man's true strength might no longer be in Eternal Realm!

Only the legendary Saint could do this so easily.

A Saint!

Madam Nubia's eyes flashed with envy.

Even if an Eternal reached peak Sovereign Rank or even partial Saint Realm, they would still need to go through the Eternal Catastrophe.

As long as one did not step into the real Saint Realm, they would be troubled by the Eternal Catastrophe.

And as time went by, the Eternal Catastrophe would become more and more intense.

In the end, an Eternal would either be reduced to dust by the Eternal Catastrophe, or they would successfully enter the real Saint Realm and achieve true immortality.

For an Eternal, their lifelong wish was to achieve Saint Realm before the Eternal Catastrophe arrived.

Madam Nubia averted her gaze from David and looked at Reva and Lucia.

Reva was the Eternal elder of the Divine Snow Mountain, so she naturally knew her.

What puzzled Madam Nubia was when did this little girl meet a young Saint.

Even a level 6 civilization would not have such a powerful person, let alone a level 4 civilization. They would only exist in high-level civilizations like level 7 civilizations.

It seemed fate had not abandoned the Divine Snow Mountain yet.

They could still make a comeback even while facing the attack of a Sovereign Ranker like Diablo.

It could be seen that the Divine Snow Mountain was a force favored by God!
