I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2697-After David crippled Diablo, he did not continue his attacks but observed the bloody giant ax in the sky.

He instinctively felt that this thing seemed to be useful to him.

After thinking carefully for a moment, an idea flashed through his mind and he remembered something.

The system had shown that in order to complete the final upgrade, he must collect three Ancient Weapons.

The Sky-Splitting Ax, Sun Bow, God of Thunder Hammer.

He had already obtained the God of Thunder Hammer, but he still did not have any news about the Sky-Splitting Ax and the Sun Bow yet.

Was the Divine Ax the Sky-Splitting Ax?

David's clone looked at the bloody giant ax in the sky.

He figured this might be possible.

Those who could resist the flick of his finger and remain unscathed were not mortal beings.

However, whether it was true or not, David had to come here in person and test it with the system to find out.

The clone did not have the system, so he could not determine whether this bloody giant ax was the Sky-Splitting Ax.

It seemed that the main form needed to visit Boundless Galaxy in person.

The Sky-Splitting Ax was of great use to David.

It was one of the three keys that could unlock the last upgrade of the system.

If he could not collect the three weapons and start the last upgrade of the system, then Overlord Realm would be David's limit.

He would not be able to go any further.

Although for now, Overlord Realm was enough to solve all troubles.

However, who could predict what would happen next?

What if someone beyond Overlord Realm appeared?

Wouldn't that mean that he could only be slaughtered by others?

This was not in line with David's character.

He preferred to plan ahead.

Since the system had another upgrade, he would go all the way.

If this bloody ax was really the Sky-Splitting Ax, he must get it no matter what.

At most, he would give the Divine Snow Mountain more compensation.

He believed that they would not say no.

After the observation, the clone passed the information to the main form.

There was a shared soul between the two so they could have a simple interaction with each other.

However, if they were too far away from each other, it would be impossible to know the specific details.

The other side.

David, who was close to level 9 civilization Leila, suddenly felt his soul tremble.

He knew that someone had summoned his clone.

After sensing it carefully for a moment, he knew that it was definitely not Celia and others on Earth.

Then, the only ones left were Sid and Alba from Star Kingdom, and Reva and Lucia from the Boundless Galaxy.

Soon after, David received a message from the clone. He confirmed that Reva and Lucia got into danger in the Boundless Galaxy so that was why they summoned the clone.

And there was another message. In this message, the clone told David to return to the Boundless Galaxy again.

Although David did not know the specific situation, it was definitely not something trivial since it was passed on by the clone.

After settling the problem with Lufian and returning to Earth, he still has to go to the Boundless Galaxy.

Now, David could only put this aside for a while. He was so close to Leila now so he could not return immediately.

Leila's matter was the most important at the moment.

Level 4 civilization Boundless Galaxy. On top of the Divine Snow Mountain.

What was David's strength?
