

Read I am a quadrillionaire

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2698-A partial Heavenly Overlord.

So, a flick of the clone's finger did not just injure Diablo, it also completely crippled him.

In other words, Diablo's Sovereign Rank strength was irrevocably lost. He was no longer a Sovereign Ranker, but an ordinary person.

For a person who aspired to dominate the universe, such a result was obviously more difficult to accept than death.

Diablo slowly raised his head. His blood-red eyes glared at David not far away with hatred. Then, he asked in disbelief with a trembling voice, "You... You actually crippled me?"

"I told you that since you don't want to retreat, you gave me no choice but to take action. You need to bear the final consequences yourself," David replied expressionlessly.

"You asshole! Why didn't you just kill me? Why did you want to spare my life? Do you know that crippling me is more cruel than killing me?" Diablo roared.

"I didn't kill you because I want you to have a chance to change your ways. But if you really want to die, the people from the Divine Snow Mountain should be able to help you realize your wish."

"You... Pfft!"

Diablo was so angry at David that he spurted out another mouthful of blood and fell to the ground before passing out.

He was already seriously injured, so when he was stimulated again, he could not catch his breath and fainted.

David's clone ignored Diablo.

An ant was not worth any of his effort.

He had given Diablo a chance, but unfortunately, the other party did not cherish it, so he would have to bear the consequences.

When David first came out, he saw that Diablo was going to kill all the disciples of the Divine Snow Mountain with one blow.

Meanwhile, Diablo was a Sovereign Ranker, which was far superior to others.

Therefore, it could be concluded from this that Diablo was not a good person.

So there was no need for David to show mercy to a guy who disregarded other people's lives.

He was already merciful in only crippling him.

Turning his gaze to the six top forces behind Diablo, David said, "I'll say it again, I can spare you if you leave the Divine Snow Mountain and never set foot here again. Otherwise..."

David's eyes changed and he emitted murderous intent.

"You will end up like Diablo. Next time I attack, I will not be merciful so you must be mentally prepared."

As soon as he said that, the hearts of the six top forces in Boundless Galaxy immediately turned cold and they were all frightened.

The almost thirty Eternals all felt a strong crisis of death.

Even Sovereign Ranker Diablo was no match for David and was instantly defeated. So how would they have the courage to resist?

The Eternals responded immediately.

"Please don't worry, Sir! We swear that from today on, we will never set foot on the Divine Snow Mountain again. If we violate this oath, we will be struck by lightning and die without a grave. Please let us live."

"Please, Sir, let us live!" The others shouted for mercy at the same time.

"Remember what you said today. Take Diablo with you and get lost!"

David waved his hand and a force pushed the unconscious Diablo into the crowd.

He was useless now so he did not matter.

Even if he survived, he could only be an ordinary person in this life.

With Diablo's domineering personality, he must have offended many people in Boundless Galaxy.

After he became a cripple, there would be a lot of people coming to make trouble for him.

Whether he could drag out an ignoble existence would depend on his luck.

The six top forces of the Boundless Galaxy, after getting David's consent, left the Divine Snow Mountain in a hurry.

They swore they would never come to this damned place again.

"Miss Marwood, this matter has come to an end. You can put the Divine Ax away for now. After my main form is done with his business, he will come to you. He needs to talk to you about something," David said while looking at Reva.

Reva and Lucia were overjoyed when they heard that David's main form was coming.

If they had another chance to see Master David, they would definitely not doubt his ability again.

"Thank you for saving us, Master David!" The two of them bowed to David.

"Thank you for saving us, Master David!" The other disciples of the Divine Snow Mountain followed Reva's example and bowed to David's clone while saying respectfully.

"You don't need to be so modest, everyone! It's nothing. See you next time!" After David's clone finished speaking, it turned into a wisp of smoke and disappeared.

"Goodbye, Master David!"